Love Of Boy, 15, For Woman, 27, Tested By Old Professor Time

Mrs. Thelma Tibbitts, Who, At Twenty-Seven, Wants To Be The Wife Of A Fifteen-year-old Boy, Is Shown In All Her Comeliness

With the little town of Canaan, Me., as a laboratory, a strange love is being tested in the retort of life.

The love is the love of a fifteen-year-old boy and a twenty-seven-year-old woman. The test is a year-long test of durability.

The boy is William Buzzell. Thelma Tibbitts, a not unattractive divorcee, came to the farmhouse of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Buzzell, the boy's parents, a few months ago to do housework. With her she brought her five-year-old son.

Buzzell, despite his age, is strong and manly. Wrestling a living from the bleak Maine lands makes men of boys. And boy-man and the woman fell in love.

William's parents were approached. They consented to the match. The couple sought a license. Mrs. Lettie Foster, town clerk, was aghast when they gave their ages. She refused a license. The Board of Selection agreed that she was right.

The couple, backed by the boy's parents, threatened legal action to get the necessary paper. The board stood firm. Townsfolk sided with them. And then William and Mrs. Tibbitts decided to wait.

"We will wait a year. We will wait until William is sixteen, the couple said. The boy will reach his sixteenth birthday on March 6, 1928. A year of waiting—

"We love each other. It is not merely puppy love," Buzzell says. "We love each other enough to wait a year—longer if necessary."

A year is a long time.

Life moves, even in this little hamlet. Girls his own age will smile on William. Other men may find Mrs. Tibbitts attractive and attracting.

The reagents of life and living will be at work. Great loves have been dissembled in hours.

"But ours is not puppy love," the couple say. "It will last a long time."

URGE NEW COUNTY COURT HOUSE

Another Grand Jury Stresses Need Of County

Declares That New Courthouse Is Most Urgent Need At Present

PRESENT OFFICERS ARE NOT ADEQUATE

Report Is Submitted By Grand Jury After Investigation Tuesday

Another recommendation for a new court house was made in presentments made by the grand jury Tuesday evening.

The report was as follows: "We further recommend that urgent action be taken to build a new court house of sufficient size and caliber to take care of our enlarged business and to provide for proper space, conveniences and safeguards of records which are proper.

"We have visited and inspected the county buildings and find that all offices are very greatly handicapped by the cramped conditions, both for working and filing records. The ventilation is poor and insufficient. We find the sheriff's office to be in exceedingly poor repair. The conditions of filing in the recorder's office and prothonotary's office are very poor, due to lack of proper files and room. The detention home is a fire trap and an outrage to the county.

"The floor coverings in the upper corridors of the court house are very poor. We commend the sheriff for the fine condition in which we found the jail.

"We further recommend that new matresses be furnished for the detention home and also new blankets supplied to the jail proper.

"That mattresses being used by persons afflicted with contagious diseases be destroyed unless sanitary mattresses be supplied as by an oil cloth covering.

"It is suggested that the ladies' rest room on the second floor of the court house be put in proper and sufficient condition and be kept strictly as a ladies' rest room only."

PITTSBURGH, Mar, 9.— The Moon Run Mining Community near here early today was the scene of an outbreak marked by gunfire and dynamiting.

Two families living in an eight-room double frame house on property of the Pittsburgh Coal Company miraculously escaped injury when two successive dynamite charges were exploded under the house shortly after midnight.

Prevent Panic At Oil City School

(International News Service)
OIL CITY, Pa., Mar. 9—Presence of mind of teachers in the Second Ward school averted a panic here today when nearly 200 children were marched out under the pretext of a fire drill, when smoke was discovered.

When the fire department was summoned after the children had left the building, a lengthy search revealed that a bucket with cloths left to boil in water had gone dry and the cloth smouldered sufficiently to fill the building with smoke.

Volunteers Keep Man Alive By Artificial Respiration Work For Past 73 Hours

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
EVANSTON, Ill., March 9.—The fight for the life of Alfred Frick, 22, was apparently approaching victory today at the end of 73 hours of artificial respiration when he gasped out that feeling was returning to his legs.

"I can feel a little warmth in my legs," Frick uttered painfully as 56 volunteers continued in shifts of two to monotonously raise and depress his arms because of paralysis of the pulmonary muscles.

EVANSTON, Ill., March 9.—Alfred Frick, 22, stricken with paralysis of the diaphragm, was being kept alive today by a volunteer corps of 35 men, working in relays of two each, who stroked his side, bellows fashion, to keep up respiration.

Should the men cease for one minute young Frick would die. The patient has been thus kept alive for the past 65 hours. The volunteers, who work in 15-minute relays, are friends of the stricken youth who worked with him in the office of the Public Service company.

Frick is propped up at a 45-degree angle in a bed at St. Francis hospital. His illness has been diagnosed as "Landry's paralysis." This disease affects the spinal cord and lower center of the brain, cutting off the nerve supply to the diaphragm and paralyzing the chest wall muscles.

Unable to swallow, Frick is nourished with a glusose solution injected into his leg, a quart at a time. Physicians are hopeful that the cause of the paralysis may be discovered and remedied in time to save the young man's life. Meanwhile his heroic comrades have announced that they will continue the artificial respiration as long as there is a breath of life in the patient.

May Offer Pennington Commissioner Post In New Enforcement Plan

Revealed Today That Andrews Has Virtually Chosen Pennington

Pittsburgh Administrator Will Become Commissioner Of Prohibition

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 9.—While dry organizations have been fighting among themselves over the appointment of the new commissioner of prohibition, authorized under the reorganization bill passed by congress, Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews has virtually decided upon J. D. Pennington, now administrator at Pittsburgh, for the job, it was learned here today.

Andrews on his return from New York soon, is expected to recommend Pennington's appointment to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Considered Success.

Pennington was a former lieutenant commander in the navy. He is considered a success as dry administrator at Pittsburgh, by treasury officials.

Whether Mellen will leave the appointment to Andrews, however, has not been disclosed. Considerable political pressure already has been brought to bear regarding this commissionership.

H. H. White, former administrater of Texas and Oklahoma, who has been relieved of a similar post for Maryland and the District of Columbia, is slated to be deputy prohibition commissioner, it was stated at the treasury today. White was a former army officer.

Two names have been mentioned for customs commissioner, Ernest Camp, present director of customs, and Frank Dow, an assistant to Andrews. Both of these men probably will get executive appointments in the customs service.

Pennington Ready.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 9.—"I stand ready to obey orders from my superiors in prohibition enforcement in Washington, regardless of the nature of these orders, without consulting my personal preference in the matter."

This was the reply of John D. Pennington, regional dry administrator here, when told by International News Service of word from Washington that Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews has virtually decided upon Pennington for appointment as na-

Chinese Mob Starts Looting

Native Customs House Club Is Looted By Crowd

By ALFRED MEYER,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, March 9—A dangerous situation developed at Wuhu today when a Chinese mob broke open and looted the native customs house club. Foreign women and children are being sent from Wuhu to Shanghai and the foreign men are standing by ready to withdraw from the city if the necessity arises.

The maneuvering of troops for the opening of the long expected battle for the possession of Shanghai continues.

General Chang Tsung-Chang, northern commander, has ordered heavy reinforcements from the north as a result of the revelation that the Nationalists plan to launch a tripple attack on three fronts. Their object is to cut the Tsingpu-Shanghai and Nanking-Lunghai railroads, thus cutting off the northern forces from tehir bases.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., March 9.—An administration bill making an appropriation of one million dollars to the state armory board for the purpose of constructing armories in the state was sponsored in the house today by Representative Hess, Lancaster.

The bill may result in the withdrawal of a number of bills providing for separate construction of armories in various parts of the state.

"Big Three" May Have Conference On Armaments

President Coolidge Hopes For England-Japan-U. S. Conference

GREAT BRITAIN IS HOLDING KEY

Attitude Of England Will Determine Possibility Of New Conference

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Coolidge's efforts to salvage something from the wreck of his hopes for a second Washington armament conference depended today upon Great Britain.

The informal discussions now in progress between under Secretary of State Grew and the British and Japanese ambassadors are expected to establish within two weeks whether it is possible for the "big three" to agree on naval limitation without France and Italy.

No Definite Program.

No definite program or formula for limitation has yet been discussed, it was said at the state department today.

"We have been discussing whether it would be possible to discuss the project seriously at Geneva next June in connection with the preparatory commission," said an official of the department.

Great Britain has hitherto objected to any agreement limiting her anti-submarine strength unless France and Italy, rival Mediterranean powers, agree upon submarine limitation. However, British statesmen are now considering whether it will not be possible to effect a "flexible" three-power agreement, with provision that Britain's auxiliary strength should always be in advance of French and Italian building.

President Coolidge is hopeful but not sangunine that some sort of agreement can be worked out which will at least operate to stop competitive building between Britain, the United States and Japan.

Property Loss Is Enormous—7,000 Homes Are Destroyed

(International News Service)
TOKIO, March 9.—Undaunted, Japan today was taking steps to rebuild the towns and villages which were reduced to shambles by earthquake and fire.

Latest available figures issued by the home office disclosed that 4,774 persons were killed and injured in the terrific temblor which rumbled over western Japan.

7,000 Homes Destroyed.

More than 7,000 houses were destroyed in the four provinces which suffered the heaviest damage. About half of them were shaken to the earth by the force of the shock. The rest were destroyed by fire which raged subsequent to the quake.

The province of Yosha was particularly hard hit. At least 1,643 persons were killed in this territory, including the town of Mineyama where 1,000 were killed.

Thirty-five persons were killed in the province of Nake. A close check of the injured in this province has not yet been made.

Relief Workers In Hard Battle To Reach Areas

Conditions In Earthquak Zones Are Reported As Indescribable

HEAVY STORMS FOLLOW QUAKE

Transportation To District Hit By Quake Is Sadly Inadequate

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
TOKIO, March 9.—Hundreds of refugees in the earthquake districts were facing starvation today, according to advices received here.

Handicapped by a partly demoralized railroad system, the task of getting supplies and food to the affected areas is extremely difficult. Motor transportation to the stricken areas is impossible.

A gale, accompanied by a drenching rain, was sweeping over the Sanin district today, bringing added suffering.

Many of the makeshift shelters have been blown down.

Conditions Terrible

Conditions are said to be indescribable in the affected provinces. Rescue parties are digging into the smashed houses to get the bodies of the dead. The bodies are then piled in the streets and burned.

The number of injured is overwhelming. Doctors and nurses are being rushed in from Kobe and Osaka and other centers, but they are not able to cope with the situation.

Relief and supplies are being sent in from all parts of Japan, but transportation is wholly inadequate. Coolies are being used to pack food over the devastated highways. They are packing supplies as far as 10 miles in this manner.

Soldiers in Charge

Soldiers are in charge of distributing food and supplies in the area. Soldiers are also erecting barracks and other temporary shelters for the refugees.

The Emperor today contributed 50,000 yet to the relief fund, which is being contributed to by all classes.

Even 'Hard Boiled Hoiman' Admits It's Quite Some 'Burg'

Audience Of 3,200 Packs Great Cathedral For Rose-Marie Tuesday

Finished Performance Is Presented—Cast of Show Enthused

"It's wonderful. Such an audience! Such an auditorium!

"It has been an inspiration to me tonight and an experience that I will not soon forget," said Beulah Berson, leading lady in the production of Rose Marie, presented at the Scottish Rite Cathedral last night under the auspices of the New Castle Baseball club.

"Greater audiences? Oh, Yes," said Miss Berson, dainty, pretty, cordial and talented actress. "In San Antonio there were six thousand persons, at Dallas 5,500. But never such an audience as this, in such an auditorium as this, so sympathetic, appreciative, one that makes you do your best in spite of yourself. It would be a pleasure to have the opportunity of appearing here again."

Some Town Says Hoiman

"Dis Burg, what you call it. New Castle, you say. Well it's some town," remarked Hard Boiled Herman, in every day life Harry Kolar. "Wouldn't mind opening a shop here with Lady Jane any time. The people certainly appreciate a "good line" and that's what we tried to hand them tonight."

"Great reception you have given us here," remarked R. M. Evans, manager in charge of the Rose Marie company appearing here. "And a wonderful audience. We certainly appreciate being the first high class road production to appear in the cathedral."

With such reactions from the management and members of the cast of the Rose Marie company appearing here last night, in the greatest single outpouring of peo-

Motor Federation Asks For Detailed State Road Report

State Motor Federation Refuses To Accept Recent Statement

Compare Budget Figures With Statement Submitted By Highway Bureau

By G. ROSS DOWNING,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 9.—Refusing to accept the statement made by the department of highways that only $2,500,000 is available for new road construction during the biennium, the Pennsylvania Motor Federation today addressed a letter to Secretary James L. Stuart asking more detailed information.

The federation's letter is the result of comparison with the figures given in the budget and those of the statement submitted last week to the legislature by the department.

Detailed cost figures on twenty-one of the department's activities are requested. Included in the questions is one asking the cost of the department's surveys, an item long advanced by critics of the department as out of proportion to the amount expended in actual construction.

The letter asserted that one of the chief discrepancies between the budget figures and those given the Gere was struck by a falling elevator and received a glancing blow on the head as well as bruises on his right leg. It was thought at first that it would be necessary to have an X-ray examination but found out later that the injury was not serious enough to necessitate such an examination.

To Form Rules For School Gym Use By Public

School Board Gets Complaint From Rose Avenue Principal

OTHER MATTERS BEFORE BOARD

Business was somewhat expedited at the meeting of the Board of Education last night under the new organization. This was accomplished by the superintendent and business manager preparing their report before hand and giving the members of the board an opportunity to consider action before they came to the meeting.

At the recommendation of the superintendent the board authorized a subscription to the American School Board Journal, so that each member of the board may have a copy.

After some discussion concerning the renting of school gymnasiums for community basketball games it was referred to the superintendent to arrange some policy to be presented at some future meeting. Immediate action was not thought necessary, as the basketball season is nearly over. Complaints of the misuse of the gymnasium at Rose Avenue school by certain parties was brought to the board by Miss Dart, the principal.

After discussion concerning the boiler accident at the Franklin school the board recommended that someone else than Walter Wolford be placed in charge of the boilers pending an investigation by competent engineers as to the cause of the accident and the placement of the fault.

In regard to physical examination of athletes, the board recommended that such examination should be made by either the medical inspector of schools or a certificate from a physician showing the fitness of the pupil to engage in athletics or other strenuous exercise.

A letter from Mrs. Holliday of Mahoningtown asking permission that her son Jack might be permitted to attend summer school was referred to the superintendent for his information.

A committee of five members of the board was appointed to meet with a committee from the city council and others to consider the organization of a recreational board. President Love appointed C. H. Young, John A. Butler, Rose M. Nothdurft, Ethel A. Douthett and Joseph Ligo.

The board authorized the superintendent to arrange for the use of paper towels in the schools. It was suggested that each teacher have a supply and issue those necessary to her pupils.

The board adjourned to meet at 7:45 o'clock on Monday evening, March 14, to consider the budget and adopt the amount of millage for the coming year.

An organization to popularize common sense wouldn't have a quorum at the second meeting.

Town Talk

The performance and crowd at the Cathedral auditorium last night marked the actual transition of New Castle to the larger circuits in the matter of things in the entertainment line. While New Castle has been having artists and musical events of the highest calibre for some years, the demonstration last night was that the community can provide for the largest kind of performances. The stage and auditorium are of sufficient size to take care of them, and the way the immense building was crowded last night indicates that the crowds necessary to support such programs are also possible and indicated. Worth while performances will get support needed, it is certain.

Despite the fact that an audience of over 3,000 packed the Cathedral auditorium last night the first time that the big auditorium has been completely filled and the hundreds of autos parked in the vicinity of the Cathedral the crowd melted away with amazing rapidity after the show. Fifteen or twenty minutes after the performance was over the streets in the vicinity were almost deserted. During the show streets for blocks in every direction had been used for parking autos. Police aided materially in the quick work in moving the crowd after the show as officers were at all of the important street intersections and kept traffic from becoming blocked.

Get your hair cut and shave early tomorrow. Barbers of the city are all set for a big night. The annual banquet of the tonsorial artists is scheduled for 8 o'clock. According to President Fred Llewellyn it's going to be some big night.

New Castle residents who are inclined to patronize events in the Scotish Rite Cathedral must realize that it is necessary to start earlier for performanes in the building. It is impossible to seat an audience of hundreds if all of those with reserved seats wait until almost time for the program to start before going to the cathedral. It's an impossibility to seat an audience as large as that in the cathedral in a few moments. There were many late getting their seats at Rose-Marie last night due to this cause. The audience must help out the situation by getting to the cathedral earlier. The folks in the second balcony have the right idea. An hour before the show was scheduled to start, the top floor was packed practically every seat being taken.

Just while the matter of coming late to shows is being discussed a word can be said in behalf of those patrons of musical events here who have a complaint. It has been complained to The News a number of times that patrons of music events who come in late and interrupt the program by being piloted to their seats during the program should be censured. Ushers should not take any person to a seat during a musical number they say and also declare that patrons of musicales and entertainments should make it a point to arrive before the curtain rises.

Leave it to the kids. The kids referred to in this instance were two small boys, who had a strong desire to witness the production of Rose Marie last night. And they saw it, but thereby hangs a "tale."

One of the men on duty at the dressing rooms was surprised to see two youngsters at the door. He asked them how about it. They informed him that their dog had gotten in and they were looking for it.

No dog had been seen. The story sounded kind of strange, but it appealed to the man in the case and he advised the boys to forget the dog and hike to the upper gallery, where they might accomplish the purpose of their efforts. This they did and as far as is known, they saw the play.

But the "tale" does not end here. The dog was in the building all right and the man in question came in contact with it and had it removed.

And the boys saw the show through the "tale" of a dog.

The New Castle Baseball club feels extremely happy over the fact that the very successful appearance of Rose Marie here last night, was sponsored by that organization. Officers of the organization today, expressed their appreciation of the courtesy and support accorded them by the people of the city in making the affair the success that it was.

Butler Post of the American Legion will hold their annual banquet at the Nixon Hotel in Butler, Monday night, March 14. Pat Dempsey, district commander of the Legion has several tickets and any one wishing to attend the Butler banquet should get in touch with him.

On Tuesday, March 15, the National Commander Banquet of the American Legion will be held in the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh. This is one of the biggest affairs of the year.

"Owners of cars, attending events at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, have been forgetting that the property owners in front of whose homes they are parking their machines, have some rights" remarked Chief of Police Henry Dysart. "There is plenty of parking space within easy reach of the Cathedral and there is no reason for any person parking a car so as to interfere with others," he continued, "and we hope, that in the future, that motorists having occasion to park in that district, will refrain from parking in front of private driveways or up in these driveways, as was the case last night and on several other occasions. There is plenty of room for all and we hope that this will be sufficient of a reminder to prevent any unpleasantness in the future."

C.B.D.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

WHO SHALL JUDGE THIS CASE?

A boy of 12 kills a shopkeeper. And what is to be done about it-

Under the system of criminal law that we have inherited from old times it is generally presumed that children are not capable of committing crimes. A child is irresponsible. His parents are held responsible for his good behavior. If your son breaks out Neighbor Smith's window you will have to pay for replacing the glass. Very likely you will feel it necessary to apologize in person to the neighbor, and you may even feel ashamed that your most careful training has not been sufficient to keep your sons from breaking windows.

But at rare intervals there comes to light a case of a child who gets altogether loose from parental control. He may burn down houses, kill unoffending persons, or shock the community by some disgraceful deed. Then what is to be done? Of course, the boy must be restrained of his liberty, lest he do it again, until he reaches maturity. But where shall we place the blame?

It is easy for more fortunate folk to say that Mike Ponkroskow's parents did not give their child proper care and training. I shall not say that. The responsibilities of parenthood are among the weightiest that human beings are ever called upon to assume. I would have to be confident that I am discharging that responsibility blamelessly myself before I should feel qualified to condemn the father and mother of a child who has disgraced his family. So far as I have been able to find out, the father and mother of Mike Ponkroskow are honest, hard-working, God-fearing people. They are immigrants, living in a strange country whose language and customs they can hardly understand. They have always sent their children to school and to church, and of course they were proud of young Mike, who seemed to be a bright boy.

Mike was injured on the head when he was quite a small boy. Has this anything to do with the boy's killing a shopkeeper? No one now living can tell. We are just beginning to learn a few shadowy scientific facts about that mysterious mechanism, the human brain. It will be at least another century before we may know definitely whether a given criminal act or tendency is or is not due to a head injury. And it will be at least that long before judges, with the best will in the world, will be able to decide intelligently such a case as that of Mike Ponkroskow. Meantime, one can but sympathize with the judge upon whom such an impossible task is thrust.

It is well to remember, too, that none of us is equipped to judge the unhappy parents of a child who commits a murder.

MAY OFFER PENNINGTON COMMISSIONER POST

tional commissioner of prohibition.

"Frankly, however," Pennington continued, "I am well pleased with Pennsylvania. I have made my home here, have found a host of friends and associates in this district, and to separate myself from the region would be a hardship. If I go to Washington, it shall be under orders. In this I follow my long training in the navy."

Pennington pointed out that he felt he had won the confidence of the people of Pennsylvania in his work here, and that in event of a transfer he would be forced to retrace ground he has already travelled.

"I have felt free to discuss with the people of my district the problems attendant on enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment, through the medium of the press," he said, "and I am not at all sure this could be done on a national scale. Only by frankness and sincerety can the public be made to see that enforcement of the dry laws is not an encroachment upon personal liberty. I am inclined to wonder if the nation as a whole could be shown this. If so, I would be glad to tackle the problem at Washington."

EVEN "HARD BOILED HOIMAN" ADMITS IT'S QUITE SOME "BURG"

ple, in the history of the city, to witness a theatrical production, it much be appreciated that there was a real pleasant feeling among the several thousand people, who witnessed the presentation of the famous musical comedy.

Over 3000 Present

More than three thousand people crowded the auditorium of the city's now famous Scottish Rite Cathedral. Standing room only was the order of things. Every seat even in the boxes was taken, and where permissable, there were numbers of people, who desired to witness the play, who stood throughout the performance.

The perfect acoustic properties of the auditorium proved their value last night on the first occasion on which every nook and corner was filled. It was possible for every member of the vast audience to hear each spoken or sung word, even those tense moments, when the scene demanded soft speaking or singing.

The immense stage of the auditorium afforded ample opportunity for the chorus to disport itself in the best manner, while the lighting effects met every requirement of a production of this size.

Dainty, petite Rose Marie, presented by Beulah Berson, was outstanding. Miss Berson possessed a beautiful, appealing voice and certainly made the best use of it. In presenting the character of the little French Canadian girl, who loved Jim Kenyon, she had ample opportunity of exercising her dramatic ability and did so. The "Indian Love Call" was her outstanding effort.

Paul J. Gregory, who played opposite her as Jim Kenyon, did his best, but was handicapped by a severe cold. His interpretation of the character was good.

The indications are that Harry Kolar, as Hard Boiled Herman, Hazel Gaudreau, as Wanda, the Indian maid, and Marie Eline, as Lady Jane, captured the fancy of the audience from the start, and once in the "saddle" so to speak, they rode throughout the performance on the wave of popularity, which their acting entitled them to.

Kolar as Hard Boiled Herman, friend of Jim Kenyon, and "man without fear," (when there was plenty of help around), did not leave a thing undone to properly interpret his part. Marie Eline, as Lady Jane, was always in favor with the audience.

Hazel Gaudreau as Wanda, Indian Maid and dancer, was one of the best interpreters of aesthetic dancing that has ever been seen here. Her outstanding number was the "Totem Tom Tom" song and dance in this number, the chorus was an important and integral part. The costumes in this number were superb and the dancing was wonderful, with some unique features. The chorus was excellent in all its numbers, another outstanding selection being the ball room scene.

A feature of the production that had its special appeal to the vast audience, was Thomas Chadwick as Sergeant Malone of the Canadian Mounted police and his assisting group of troopers. Good voices prevailed in this group and their numbers were stirring.

The scenery was excellent and the handling of the performance from the start to the finish was in an orderly manner.

The throng of people attending was so great that it was necessary for the police to be out in force to handle traffic. The firemen were also on duty in considerable numbres at the building.

MOTOR FEDERATION ASKS FOR DETAILED STATE ROAD REPORT

legislature was an item of almost $3,000,000 in the expected revenue from the motor licenses.

The $93,000,000 estimate made in the budget as the total unencumbered funds of the department for the biennium is compared with that of $77,000,000 in the legislative statement.

"We should also like to know" asserted the letter "whether the departments of highways has in mind to construct from motor license revenues an office building in Harrisburg, designed to house the department of highways and its bureau of motor vehicles, this building to cost several million dollars."

Answers to all the questions asked, the letter said, have an important bearing on the need for an additional cent on the gasoline tax.

(International News Service)
By ROBERT E. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 9. — The House of Representatives at today's session passed finally a score of bills including the Witherspoon measure authorizing the State Council of Education to make advancements out of the state school to school districts in emergency cases.

Among the others passed were:

Marcus Zoning bill, one of a series.

Goehring bill, extending to former state employes, now returned to state service, the privilege of joining the retirement fund as original members.

Marcus bill, defining and limiting road taxes.

Davis bill, fixing the salaries of coroners in third class counties.

A large number of first and second reading bills were advanced by the house today.

Some delay was occasioned in the session when an effort was made to pass first reading bills due to the fact that they were not in printed form on the desks of the members. Rules were suspended, however, and the speaker ruled that initial passage would be in order.

Chief among the second reading bills was the Alexander measure making amendments to the administrative code.

Zingling Family Return From Europe Recently

Circus Family, To Be In New Castle April 1 And 2, Returns From Orient

John Zingling, father of the Zingling Family circus, spent the past winter touring the Orient, and other parts of Europe, with his family, looking for new talent to take part in his show when they will appear in New Castle at the Y. M. C. A. April 1 and 2. Zingling promises something new and startling in acrobatic acts as brought from Japan.

The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. were very fortunate in securing this famous family for their annual show, which will be held in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A.

If you desire a real night of fun under the big tent you will not be disappointed in the show as Zingling has corraled the very best in the way of clowns, who will bring the tears to your eyes with their antics, and if they cannot make you laugh the doctor or undertaker will be the next to take interest in you.

Tickets will soon be placed on sale at the various agencies and may be secured from and member of the Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A. Our advice to you is to get your tickets early as they are going fast and promise is given of a capacity audience at each performance.

A matinee will be given for the kiddies on Saturday, April 2.

Discards like tissue—No laundry

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

THAT one can be fresh and charming, wear lightest gowns and frocks, dance or motor for hours, and yet be under the most trying of hygienic handicaps, is a fact most women know today.

Instead of old-time sanitary pads, 8 in 10 better class women today use Kotex.

✓ Discards easily as tissue. Thus no laundry. Absorbs 5 times as effectively as ordinary cotton pads. Hence no fear of embarrassment. Deodorizes instantly. And thus ends all danger of offense.

Obtain at any store, without embarrassment or hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX." Box of 12 costs only a few cents.

Obtain today. Once you try it, you'll never again risk the fear of old ways. Be sure you get the genuine Kotex; there is no other "like" it.

Heads Up!

THE carelessly dressed man reminds one of a tattered hymn book—between covers, quite worthy, no doubt, but who wants to pick it up? The English have a quaint old saying which runs "lax in your gaiters; laxer in your gait." The higher the esteem in which a man holds Correct Dress, the "higher he holds his head." There is no more buoyant bracer.

Alice Rhinelander Granted New Fees To Fight Annulment

(International News Service)
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Mar. 9.—Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauser today granted Alice Jones Rhinelander $1500 additional counsel fees to continue to fight the efforts of her wealthy young husband, Leonard Kip Rhinelander, to annul their marriage.

Mrs. Rhinelander had asked $5,000 to combat Rhinelander's efforts to have the court of appeals in Albany overturn Justice Morschauser's earlier decision declining to annul the marriage on the grounds of fraud. Counsel for Rhinelander objected to the additional fees, claiming Mrs. Rhinelander has so far collected $18,500, or one-tenth of Rhinelander's estate.

CURB GAS PUMP MENACE

FAR-SEEING gasoline dealers have long recognized the impropriety and danger of placing gasoline filling stations close to the curb line and have built them on private property safely back from the stream of traffic. But the dealers have not all been far-sighted, and between many stations sensibly situated are others projecting their unsightly pumps upon the city curb or flush against the gutters of country highways.

Curbs, sidewalks and gutters are public property for public usage. The only license for the presence of the gasoline pump on these public domains is the affording of public convenience. Since it has been proven that the filling station situated back from the highway or street is more convenient to the public than the curb pump, the excuse for the latter disappears.

The type of gasoline pump so often encountered consuming sidewalk space is a dual obstruction to traffic since it interferes with pedestrian traffic and, because it is a magnet for automobiles, obstructs vehicular movement. The curb gas station is more objectionable than the gutter pumps along the open roads and yet many states have forbidden the latter from state-owned highways.

Multiplying traffic is convincing the public that sidewalks and pavements are essentially channels for moving traffic, not for impeding signs, parked automobiles and gasoline stations. Many municipalities have already legislated against the cluttering up of sidewalks and curb lines with merchandise and signs and against automobile parking in congested streets. Some towns and cities have never permitted curb gas stations and therefore do not have that additional problem. Progressive communities are concerning themselves with driving the gasoline filling station off the streets, and action is now being taken in New Castle to make it illegal for any further curb pumps to be erected. No permits have been granted here for several years for these curb pumps.

GERMANY IN THE CHAIR

NO MATTER what questions are discussed at the present meeting of the League of Nations Council, the main fact of this session is that a German for the first time is in the chair. Foreign Minister Stresemann enjoys that honor, and he, of all Germans, is most deserving of it.

Gustav Stresemann, since his first connection with post-war problems, has been moved by a deep sense of realities. He risked unpopularity by insisting that Germany had lost the war and had to take the consequences. By the assumption of this realistic attitude, he has been able to do much toward smoothing out the difficulties of the reconstruction period.

As he presides over the discussions of the League Council he constitutes a symbol of post-Locarno Europe, suggests an exchange. Germany has been placed, so far as international technicalities go, upon a plane of equality with other major nations. There are still troubles to face. Peace may not have been firmly established as yet. But that the German delegate should be able to take his regular turn as president of the League Council represents a long step out of the welter of European hates and antagonisms arising from the war and is a propitious augury for the future.

HOTEL ON CRUSOE'S ISLAND

It will soon be perfectly safe to be ship-wrecked on Robinson Crusoe's island, where the government of Chile is to erect a hotel and establish regular service of passenger steamers for the benefit of Crusoe enthusiasts, readers of the best-loved story in the world. The English people already have established a Crusoe hotel at Largo, the little Fifeshire village from which Alexander Selkirk, hero of Defoe's tale, set sail in the voyage which left him a castaway on the island of Juan Fernandez. That is better than naming some brand of cigaret after him.

It takes a good man not to show embarrassment when his boasted radio set, which he is showing visitors, blares out a series of yelps and shrieks that sound like feeding time in a kennel of hungry bird dogs. Of course, he has to explain that it is the first time it ever did anything like that.

The ties are not as good as can be had right here at home for the same money, and furthermore, the money would be kept at home if spent in local stores.

Captain Wall, a trainer of crocodiles, recently rode across the river Rhone at Valence on the back of one of his 400-year-old pets. Though the captain used a cane to stimulate the speed of the crocodile, more than 12 hours were required to make the crossing. Happily, however, the crocodile's attention was not distracted by any floating objects in the river, as was that of the crocodile of which Alphonse Allais wrote—by a pocketbook. Allais' crocodile identified the skin of its mother in the material of the pocketbook, and shed many crocodile tears.

General Motors sends its common stockholders a pleasing circular, proving that we have reached the billion-dollar age. The company sold $1,058,000,000 worth of automobiles in 1926, an increase of $323,000,000, and paid its common stockholders in dividends $103,930,993. That breaks all records for common stock dividends anywhere in the world. It's more than five per cent on two billions.

In that one year General Motors sold more of every car it makes than it ever sold before, total sales for the year being 1,215,826, an increase of 47 per cent.

That "satuartion point" is automobile buying seems to be postponed.

More bad news from China. The Chinese might call it good news, since it means driving out foreigners. Women and children have been hurried from Ningpo to Shanghai, where European nations have strong forces.

The Chinese news is bad for many financiers and investors. Americans, British and Germans—British especially—will lose enormous sums if the Chinese wipe out "concessions" that have made Europeans rich.

Whether China also will suffer for lack of European capital and European direction remains to be seen. The Chinese think not.

There is some comfort, not much, for those that lose dollars in China or elsewhere. A dollar is worth today 60 cents, as compared with its value before the war, "worth" meaning purchasing power.

He only knew that falsely he had won,
And now the prize was his, and now the cheers
Of all the throng was ringing in his ears.
The public praised him for the thing he'd done;
To doubt his right to glory there was none.
A silver cup was his for all the years,
Beyond suspicion or a rival's sneers.
A cup, forever he could look upon.
"Our boy won this!" his parents proudly said.
Time was he thought such flattery were sweet,
But to that cup he never turned his head
But what it whispered to him:
"You're a cheat!"
And then one day he dashed it from the shelf.
He couldn't stand the sight of it himself!

In Day's News

The distinction of being the only surviving general who held a commission in the Confederate States army belongs to Gen. Felix H. Robertson of Waco, Texas, who today reaches his 87th birthday anniversary. A native of Texas he was a cadet at West Point when Fort Sumter was fired on. Young Robertson resigned at once, went to Richmond and was appointed a lieutenant of artillery in the southern army. The battle of Shiloh found him a captain and from then on he was in every great battle fought by the Army of Tennessee. At the battle of Peach Tree Creek Gen. Robertson performed what then seemed a miracle. He stopped an infantry advance with artillery. Just before the end of the war he was appointed a major general being the youngest man of his rank in neither army. When the end came he disbanded his men and rode two days in order to surrender to Gen. Kilpatrick.

THE UNSUNG HERO

It is an old story, but it is ever new.

It is the story of how a dog saved human life.

Particularly it is the story of Peggy, the Spitz mascot, on the fire boat George B. McClellan of New York.

A number of men and their families were aboard twenty-six barges one cold day. The barges slipped their moorings and headed for the dark, swirling waters of Hell Gate. Peggy, the dog on the fire boat McClellan scented something was wrong. He sniffed the air and heard the screams of the women and children through the calm. Then he began to howl and jump around the deck. Members of the crew stuck their heads out of the hatches to see what was the matter. They heard the screams of the frenzied women and children and brought this fire boat to the rescue. Another tug boat came along and helped. They got a line to the barges and saved them from going into the whirlpool and being strewn upon the reef.

They brought them down the West channel of the East River in safety.

When the barges were tied up at the wharf many of the women and children, as well as men, went down on their knees and offered thanks for their deliverance by the crews of the fire boat and the tug boat.

The real hero of the occasion was the dog Peggy, who by his vigilance had perceived the danger and given timely warning.

An editor was once asked what was the most interesting story in the world and he said it was the story of the dog rescuing the child.

Men have always been fond of the dog because of his faithful attachment and his vigilance in keeping watch. Their natural fondness for the canine will not be lessened by the story of Peggy, the Spitz.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

BEATTY AND THORNTON.

I traveled over the Canadian Pacific Railways last Summer, and found a marvelous railroad. I saw that instead of hauling sleepers for others, the Canadian Pacific built its own, and operated them, that its telegraph service company ran also a news service, that most of the food served in the company's hotel and on the company's dinners, was raised on the company's farms, and that it owned coal mines, saw mills, smelters, grain terminals, and probably nearly a hundred other allied interests. I knew that a man named Beatty was its president, but not until I read F. S. Tisdale's story in the February Nation's Business, did I know who this man Beatty was.

New Castle claims a sort of proprietory right in the work of Sir Henry W. Thornton, now head of the National Railways of Canada. Thornton is well known, has been an athletic chap in his life time, a great football player at the University of Pennsylvania, and during all of his life then and since, a devotee of tennis. He even plays golf now.

Mr. Beatty, whose full name and titles are Edward Wentworth Beatty, L. L. D., K. C., triumphs in his scholastic career were also athletic. He was a great quarterback on the University of Toronto football team, which won in his day the Dominion Championship. As a matter of fact, Beatty says concering his school says, "I entered a preparatory school at Toronto in 1889. I rejoiced in the euphonious nickname of 'Banty'. Most of my spare time was spent doing extra work occasioned by me not having done the work I should have done when I should have done it. At the end of one year I received a report which would have discouraged any parents less hopeful than mine, for appended to this report was a postscript, 'In the opinion of the principal, it is not desirable that this pupil should return to the college.'

His parents did send him elsewhere, and he fell into better hands, and Beatty says he was rather surprised when this instructor informed him he "might amount to something".

Today the head of the Canadian Pacific is still an athlete. He plays handball; when he is at home, he takes a forty minute workout every day. If he fails in this, he says he feels sluggish at his desk the next day. Beatty operates the greatest business enterprise probably in the world. The Canadian Pacific Railroad operates twenty thousand miles of railroads, a twenty five million dollar chain of hotels, sixty steamers on the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, twenty three steamers on lakes and rivers, one hundred fifteen thousand miles of telegraph wires, and an express company that serves the entire railway system and the world, great irrigation projects, millions of acres of farm lands, as well as other things which Mr. Tisdale mentions. The Canadian Pacific will take a passenger entirely around the world on its own rails, in its own steamboats, and furnish him with food and lodging all the way.

The dividend returns on the railroad have been great. For years the stockholders have received not less than ten per cent., and yet there is not a ticker service in any office of the Canadian Pacific Railroad and Steamship lines, anywhere on the face of the earth. A newspaper man, Tisdale says, once asked Mr. Beatty to explain something that had happened to the price of Canadian Pacific stock, and was astonished when Beatty said, "I don't know what the price of Canadian Pacific Stock is now. There is not a single ticker in any office of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Tickers are a sign of stock manipulation. The Canadian Pacific has never done that."

Sir Henry Thornton's railroad is the only railroad in the world that operates more miles of rails than the Canadian Pacific. The National Railways of Canada do operate twenty two thousand miles.

Each man has Some Job!

POEMS HOVE BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"Lucifer in Starlight," by George Meredith.

The image in the 12th line of this great sonnet never fails to thrill me. I have never been able to make up my mind whether I cared for Meredith, the novelist, or Meredith the poet. "The Ordeal of Richard Feverel" is one of the great novels of all time; yet "Modern Love" and poems like "Love in the Valley", and this magnificent sonnet—surely these are equally great. Meredith was born in the same year that D. G. Rossetti came into the world—in 1828; and he died in 1909, one of the towering figures of English literature.

On a starred night Prince Lucifer uprose.
Tired of his dark dominion swung the fiend
Above the rolling ball in cloud part screened,
Where sinners hugged their sceptre of repose.
Poor prey to his hot fit of pride were those.
And now upon his western wing he leaned,
Now his huge bulk o'er Africa's sands careened,
Now the black planet shadowed Arctic snows.
Soaring through wider zones that pricked his scars
With memory of the old revolt from Awe,
He reached the middle height, and at the stars,
Which are the brain of heaven, he looked, and sank.
Around the ancient track marched, rank on rank,
The army of unalterable law.

When organizations fail to please, the number of engagements become less each year.

Took Three Years To Make Ben Hur

RAMON NOVARRO

"Ben-Hur," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production made in Italy at California, by special arrangement with A. L. Erlanger, Charles Dillingham and F. Ziegfeld, Jr., will have its premier here at the Scottish Rite auditorium Friday and Saturday evening, March 11 and 12, with a popular prices matinee on Saturday at 2:30. The picture was directed by Fred Niblo, and its history of its three years in work is a a real-life odyssey of enterprise and adventuring, culminating with the completion of the Antioch circus and race course and the filming of the great chariot race twixt Messala and Ben-Hur.

In picturizing the work Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have enjoyed the immense advantage for the movies of a story laid in outdoor scenes and characterized by the splendor and pomp of Graeco-Roman milieu in the time of Christ. Among the greater scenes on which the Newer Art has lavished its resources are those of the Wise Men and the Star of Bethlehem, Jerusalem under Roman occupation, the sea battle twixt Greeks and Romans, the life in Antioch and the chariot race, the hero's assembling of his Galileean legions, the finding of his mother and sister in the Vale of Hinnom, and the miraculous healing wrought by the Divine power.

Four Killed In Quarry Blast

Premature Explosion Occurs At Quarry Near Altoona

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., March 9.—With a toll of four men killed and seven injured, four seriously, in the premature explosion of a charge of dynamite at the quarry of St. Clair Limestone company at Ganister, near here, officials today began an investigation of charges that the blast was in a measure due to an oversight on the part of workmen who left explosives in holes.

The explosion rocked the quarry, shaking loose hundreds of tons of stone, which crashed down the sides of the pit, crushing the men.

The dead were Lucinda Calderone, 36; Raefal Peradinello, 47; Angelo Pialli, 33, and Giovonne Aloisi, 34. The men all made their homes in Ganister, near the quarry.

The four bodies were extricated from the heavy rock which killed the men, and taken to an undertaking parlor at Ganister, while four of the seven injured were taken to an Altoona hospital.

Given Right To Withhold Data In Court Appearance

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 9. — The right of an employe of the U. S. Bureau of Mines to refuse to divulge in court what he considers to be confidential information given him by a corporation today carried the sanction of a civil court here.

Called to testify regarding carbon monoxide gas, which Grace Baumgartner, of Washington alleged caused the death of her husband, Charles, in a pit owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad, S. H. Catts, gas expert of the Bureau of Mines explained that a ruling of his office forbid such testimony because his research on the subject had been done largely through the courtesy of such corporations.

The court ordered H. F. Mercer, Mrs. Baumgartner's attorney, and attorneys for the railroad to try to come to an agreement in this matter outside of court. Mrs. Baumgartner seeks damages for her husband's death.

Eight States Send Students To New Wilmington School

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 9—Westminster college's sphere of educational influence is rapidly broadening, judging from facts contained in the new college catalogue just off the press. Whereas a few years ago the majority of the students were enrolled from within a radius of a few miles of the college, eight states and the District of Columbia are now represented by the undergrads.

The enrollment this semester is the largest in the history of the school, the student body numbering 507. This is very pleasing to friends of the college since the enrollment increased rather than decreased after the fire of January 24 which destroyed Old Main, the principal building on the campus.

Of the total enrollment Pennsylvania leads in representatives, 439 students being from this state. Ohio is represented by 31 students, New York by seven, New Jersey by three, Iowa by two, District of Columbia by two, Vermont by one, Maryland by one and Indiana by one.

New Castle leads the communities other than New Wilmington in the number of students sent to the United Presbyterian school. There are 80 New Castle students enrolled. Pittsburgh is next with 37; Sharon third with 33 and Butler fourth with 14.

Other figures of interest regarding Westminster's record enrollment shows that there are 72 seniors, 84 juniors, 138 sophomores, 182 freshmen, 11 special students and 49 students in the music department, making a grand total of 537. When those who have been counted twice are subtracted from this number the net enrollment shows 507.

The country could get along better with more golden weddings and fewer "gold diggers".

Italians Build "Big Bertha" Of Air In Secret

Plane Will Be Hurled To 8,000 Feet At Start By Catapult

ROME, March 9.—Application to aviation of the principles used in the shelling of Paris by the long range "Big Bertha" of the Germans is being studied by a group of Italian aeronautical engineers.

They hope to evolve an entirely new airplane of unprecedented speed. They think it even possible to fly from Rome to Buenos Aires in 10 hours. Great secrecy surrounds the experiments.

Like the "Big Bertha" shells, the projected plane is to fly at enormously high altitudes. A catapult start is to enable it quickly to soar to a height of 8,000 meters or more, after which its gigantic motors are expected to hurl it through the rarefied air at record speeds.

The needs of both men and motors for air at high altitudes are to be met by carrying manufacturing apparatus on board the plane.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

To Neutralize Acidity and Fermentation. Prevents Indigestion, Sour Gassy Stomach.

People who suffer from indigestion usually have tried pepsin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and know these things will not cure their trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up to chronic dyspepsia, just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but pure Bisurated Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powder or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or four compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You can enjoy your meals without a fear of indigestion.

GET OUT YOUR TOP COAT

Spring suggests putting aside your heavy coat and taking out your top coat for moderate weather wear. But first let us have it so that we may dry clean it and make it look as fresh as when it was new. This will take us but a short time to do; in fact you can have it back the same day. This is the season to have all of your dry cleaning done.

Your Sick Child is Constipated! Look at Tongue

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels

Give "California Fig Syrup" if cross, bilious or feverish

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that the little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup", and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless, "fruity laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company".

Charge Youths With Auto Theft

Arrest Occurs In Youngstown After Car Is Taken Here

IN JAIL HERE FOR PRELIMINARY HEARING

Two local young men, James McPhillips and Joseph Samuels, are in the county jail awaiting a hearing before Alderman O. P. Green on a charge of the larceny of an automobile, as a result of their escapade last night. They had the car stolen were apprehended through the assistance of the Youngstown police authorities.

It was about 1 o'clock last night when the local police authorities were advised by H. D. Patterson of No. 5, that his Hudson touring car had been stolen from in front of the Night Hawk restaurant on Washington street.

At the same time that the report was made, a call was received at the police station at the top of Youngstown hill, asking if they had been a car stolen. The person who called stated that the car in question was just pulling out of the city limits. Officers Reid and Steiner were detailed to take the car to try and apprehend the thieves.

They arrived at the Pennsylvania crossing on Grant street it is stated. There they found Walzer, J. W. Johnson and Robert Dukes. The latter stated that the Walzer car started to follow the car to Youngstown while the other officers returned to the police station.

About this time a man named Bingham from Harlansburg reported that his Ford coupe had been stolen from in front of the K. of P. hall on East Washington street. Officer Samuels reported a few minutes later that this car had been abandoned at the Rigby gasoline station on Grant street. The description of the boys in this car answered that of the boys in the other car and as the coupe was stolen earlier in the evening, the police believe that they stole both of them. An overcoat in the coupe is still missing.

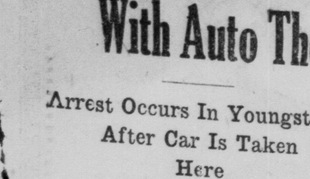

In the meantime Sergeant Syling telephoned the Youngstown authorities and two officers were sent in this direction and the car and the young men apprehended. They admitted stealing the car and agreed to return here.

The owner found on recovering his car that the engine had been burned out. The Ford coupe also was returned to the owner.

When the young men were brought back, they were taken before Alderman O. H. P. Green, where charges of stealing an automobile were made against them by Chief of Police Henry Dysart. They were placed in the county jail pending a hearing. They deny stealing the Ford coupe.

Jay C. White Perfects Improvements Upon New Model Lathe

OTHER PATENTS IN THIS LOCALITY

By GEORGE H. MANNING
Washington Correspondent of The News

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—An apparatus for dispensing gasoline is covered by a patent just granted to George W. MacKenzie of Beaver, Pa., by the United States Patent Office.

In general design the apparatus corresponds with many others now in use by garages. It has a measuring device which is operated by a hand lever. The liquid is pumped into an overhead tank which is equipped with a check valve to regulate the discharge of measured liquid. All interests in the patent have been assigned by the inventor to the Correct Measure Company of Rochester, Pa.

Improvements in a lathe are covered by a patent which has been granted to Jay C. White of New Castle. Four new features are claimed.

George E. Howard of Butler has been granted two patents covering a system for the regulation of glass feeders and a method and apparatus for feeding molten glass. In his system for regulation of glass feeders the inventor claimed 25 new features.

The apparatus for feeding molten glass contains 34 new features. The inventor has assigned his interest, through mesne assignments, to the Hartford-Empire Company of Hartford, Conn.

National Recognition Given To New Castle Public School Work

Schools of New Castle received recognition with schools of the largest cities of the United States in the art exhibit at the convention of the National Educational Association held at Dallas, Texas, last week.

An exhibit of public school art occupying a wall space of 500 by 100 feet was made up of contributions from the schools of many of the largest cities of the country, New Castle was by far the smallest city represented, said Dr. C. C. Green, who attended the convention.

Dr. Green said it made one feel considerable pride to see the products of the schools of New Castle among those of such cities as Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Denver and Detroit. And the productions of the scholars of New Castle schools could compare with any there, the whole exhibit was very excellent in every way, says Dr. Green and attracted much attention.

The New Castle exhibit was composed of specimens taken from different classes of the Elementary, Junior High and Senior High Schools and was arranged by Miss Emilie Salomon, Director of Art, in the schools of the city.

Able Message By Rev. English In Croton M. E. Church

Rev. T. W. English gave an inspiring message Tuesday evening preaching from the Gospel of Mark, 1 chapter and 24th verse. The text was "Let Us Alone."

The character from this part of the text was a man possessed with so many devils that he was called Legion, meaning many. When he met Jesus the evil spirits said "Let Us Alone." They were satisfied; they were determined to bring about his ruin.

The weakness of mankind today is to let things alone that should be stirred up. Some things we dare not let alone. Among them are, home life, health, business, morals, religion.

Some drift with the crowd and take the line of least resistance. Any old dead fish can drift with the stream but it takes a live one to resist the current. We dare not let sin alone in our own souls. If we had let slavery alone, we would have slaves. If we had let booze alone we would have saloons. Evil should be taken out of our lives just as evil spirits were taken out of the man called Legion. Evil always wants to be left alone.

Services each evening this week with the exception of Saturday. Song service at 7:30. Preaching at 8 o'clock.

Boiler Insurance For Schools Secured

Recent Accident To Boiler Results In Action By School Board

Boiler insurance upon nine boilers of the New Castle schools was authorized by the school board last night at their meeting. The insurance which the business manager was authorized to arrange with the Travelers Insurance company insures against injury to employes and damage to property to the amount of $5,000 on each boiler except the more expensive boilers in the Benjamin Franklin school which are to be insured for $10,000 each.

The nine boilers which have a steam pressure of 15 pounds which are to be insured are three in the Senior high school, two in the Benjamin Franklin high school, two in the Mahoningtown school, one in the Oak street school and one in the Thaddeus-Stevens school.

Representatives of the Travelers insurance company who were present explained to the board just what their insurance meant. It is necessary that inspection of the boilers be made twice a year, as this is required by the state, so the insurance inspectors who are authorized by the state will make these inspections which will be included in the total amouit of $324 which is the total premium to be paid for four years on the nine boilers.

The represenatives of the insurance company explained that the rate was so low because the number of accidents causing serious damage are very few.

The two boilers at the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school were insured for $10,000 each on account of the greater value of the boilers and the greater risk of their type.

The necessity of securing some kind of protection on the boilers of the schools was shown by the accident that happened to the boilers at the Franklin Junior high school last month when through the action of one of the janitors while he was blowing out the boiler, considerable damage was done to one of the boilers and a serious accident scarcely avoided.

State Legislature Passes Many Bills

One Lawrence County Measure Goes Through On Tuesday

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG Pa., March 9.—After taking since January 18 to get under a full head of steam the General Assembly is finally making some speed and from now on until April 14 the pace will be increasingly fast, with the last week run off at a speed calculated to drive church elders to hard liquor.

Tuesday in the House was something like a hundred yard dash all day. Bills, bills, bills coming up for third reading, roll call and then more roll calls with members answering yes almost as a matter of course. Some of the bills got passed by acclamation. Where a bill was up for final passage and it was one of obvious merit the reading clerk never got half way through the roll. By the time they had gone through the A's and B's a score of voices would bellow out "Aye" and the roll call was marked up as unanimous.

There was little in the calendar calculated to provoke any debate and only one bill was defeated, this a bill which would increase the mercantile tax of small merchants. This nearly got through until about the middle of the roll call somebody checked it up and found it to be a bill that would work hardships to the little fellow selling goods and a half dozen "No's" caused some of the members who had voted to check their file and later asked to be recorded No.

One Lawrence county bill finished the legislative race course on Monday night, this being House Bill 432, presented by Representative Bart Richards. It was an enabling act, designed to rectify mistakes in the registration of two church charters. Governor Fisher promised an early signature to the bill.

The Weingartner election bills presented at the request of Governor Fisher will probably be out of committee for a vote by next week. These are expected to be given the right of way in both houses.

Visitors Come To See Hair Dryer At Junior High

Alliance, O., Firm Sends Representative Here To Look Over Mechanism

Fame of the novel hair-dying machine recently installed in the girls' dressing room of the Frankin Junior High school has gone far abroad as was proven by a representative of an amusement park in Alliance, O., coming to see how the machine was constructed, says Prof. F. A. Burton, principal of the school.

Those interested in the amusement park at Alliance are desirous of installing an economical apparatus whereby the hair of bathers may be dried quickly after coming out of the water. They have a steam system for steaming and drying bathing suits and thus could easily install a machine like is used in the Franklin school. They were very much pleased with the way the machine is constructed and operated.

The Alliance parties were first impressed with a description of the machine which appeared in a Pittsburgh paper. A description of the machine was printed in The News some weeks ago, and it is likely that the Pittsburgh paper reprinted from that edition.

The apparatus is much more efficient and economical than the single machine used before, as it will accommodate 12 girls at one time and it uses only about 1-40 the amount of electricity as the older machine. The locker room where it is installed may be heated also by the machine.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT.

In choosing the items for your meals be sure there is not an excess of protein. For instance baked potatoes and macaroni should not be served at one time or baked beans and potatoes. Following is a balanced meal which is conductive to health. Better still add a raw vegetable in the form of a salad or a fresh fruit, either in a cocktail served before the meat course or during the course.

Roast Lamb Baked Potatoes
Creamed Spinach
Caramel Custard Coffee

Caramel Custard — Four eggs slightly beaten, three-quarter cup brown sugar, one-quarter teaspon salt, one quart milk, nutmeg. Mix well slightly beaten eggs, sugar and salt. Pour over this slowly the milk stirring until sugar is fully dissolved. Pour into eight greased custard cups, set in pan containing hot water, bake in moderate oven (325 degrees Fahrenheit.) Test by inserting knife into center of custard. If it comes out with jellylike substance adhering the custard is done. The oven must not be hot enough to make the water in the pan boil. Caramelized sugar may be used instead of brown sugar.

SUGGESTIONS.
New Matting.

Do not fit and cut the corners of new matting. Wet it thoroughly with hot water to which one cup of salt has been added. It will then be pliable and the left over piece can be turned under without breaking. it not only makes a neater finish but saves the matting for use in another room at some future date.

Cleaning Stovepipes.

As destructive fires are often the result of overheated chimneys and stovepipes the losses may be reduced and often eliminated by careful cleaning of such especially the stove pipes when clogged or coated by soot. An excellent plan has been found in the use of an old wornout broom in the joint of threads to remove the coating of soot in a stovepipe for the range. Take down the pipe and insert an old wornout broom in the joint of the pipe. If the broom is too large for the pipe put the pipe down over the broom handle and then turn the broom around in the range pipe until the coating of soot has been cut away. It takes but a few minutes to clean a range stovepipe by this method and a home may be saved by keeping the pipe free of coal soot.

MENU HINT

Dried fruits as well as fresh fruits hasten the passage of food in the digestive tract, both on account of their fiber and of the organic acids they contain. For the sake of rapid digestion it is wise always to include daily raw vegetables and fruits in the menu. Cabbage and apple salad is a good combination. In the menu following cabbage and dates are combined. Prunes, figs and raisins may all be used in combination with raw vegetables.

Roast Lamb
Baked Potatoes Buttered Onions
Cabbage and Date Salad
Bran Ginger Cake with Whipped Cream

TODAY'S RECIPES

Bran Gingerbread—One-quarter cup shortening, one-half cup sugar, one egg, one cup all bran, one and one-half cups flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon ginger, two teaspoons cinnamon, one-half cup sour milk, one-half cup molasses. Cream shortening and sugar together. Add the egg; beat well. Add the all bran. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add them to the creamed mixture alternately with the sour milk and molasses. Bake in a moderate oven (370 degrees Fahrenheit) from 30 to 40 minutes.

SUGGESTION

A can of evaporated milk in the house is often handy in an emergency when the fresh milk supply has for any reason run low. It can be diluted one-half and used as ordinary milk in cooking.

Gave Body For Serum Experiments; Unsung War Hero Finally Succumbs

International News Service Staff Correspondent

ARVADA, Colo., March 9.—The death of John Bennett, local business man here, marked the end of one of the unsung heroes of the great war, and the fact that death came several years after Bennett's service to his government ended only adds to the pathos of his career.

Although Bennett served but little over a year as an actual member of the United States Army, his real service to humanity will never be fully realized. While his comrades were out in the front line trenches, engaged in mortal combat with a tangible, sometimes a visible foe, Benett lay on a cot in a base hospital, inanimately struggling with more than human fortitude against an insidious, unseen enemy—disease.

For Bennett was a voluntary martyr to the cause of medical science. He made a deliberate, conscious sacrifice of his body and ultimately his life for experimental purposes.

Playground for Serums

Into his body army physicians injected tentative serum preparations for every known disease to which soldiery is subject; the battle between the preventive bacteria and the disease germs raged while the doctors with cold scientific precision noted every effect and learned the secrets of the dread germs.

John Bennett's enlistment extended from June 18, 1918 to August 13, 1919. He went first to Camp Cody, N. M., was transferred to Camp Dix, N. J., and then embarked for overseas, where he served first with the Thirty-fourth division and later in the Fifty-ninth infantry, fourth division.

He returned to his home in Arvada, to greet his wife whom he had married in 1917, and to reengage in his business, as partner in the Evans and Bennett Coal and Feed Company. Sturdy and robust when he enlisted, he returned as a semi-invalid, and never regained his strength. Struggling with business problems, active in civic affairs, he suffered a complete breakdown in 1923, while serving on a jury at Golden, Colo.

Mind Went Blank

Bennett's mind went blank; he was unable to recall who or where he was; his invalidism became complete, and for three years he has required constant care. His partner, North Evans, exhibited unusual humanity, realizing what the former soldier had endured, and continued to pay him his share of the profits of the business.

But the conquest of disease was not to be put off. His stamina and resistance reduced to a minimum by the frequent subjection to the ravages of germ and counter-germ, James Bennett underwent a cerebral hemorrage a few days ago, leaving him in a merciful state of coma until death smoothed his troubled brow and brought surcease from pain to the body that had been wracked by tortures.

His widow, a person of no mean heroism herself, and his two brothers, William J. and Charles Bennett, survive this unadorned hero of the hospitals.

While the spectacular service of many whose deeds of valor were performed with machine gun and bayonet is remembered in monument and citation, the greatest service of one who fought for humanity and the preservation of life on a pain wracked army cot will be remembered only by the few who knew Bennett personally.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—here's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

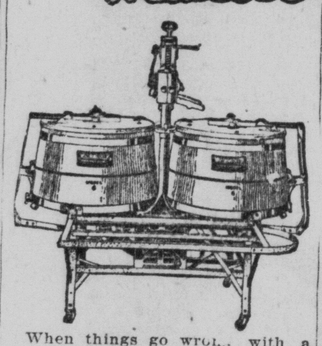

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

72 Years As Druggist, Claims U. S. Record

Michigan Man Heads Three Generations Of Pharmacists In One Town

LAPEER, Mich. Mar. 9.—The assertion of Shadrach N. Vincent, who recently celebrated his ninety-third birthday, that he is the oldest druggist in business in the United States has not been challenged. For more than seventy-two years Vincent has been a wholesale and retail dealer in drugs and medicine in Lapeer.

He also engaged in farming and has owned a saw mill and a cigar factory.

The store of S. N. Vincent & Son is the oldest drug store conducting business under the original same head in the United States. In addition to his business affiliations, Vincent served Lapeer as postmaster more than twenty-five years after he was appointed by President Lincoln in 1861. At one time his store housed the post office, telegraph and express offices. Vincent was mayor several terms and has served in other capacities.

The store has occupied the same location more than forty-five years and has a state-wide reputation. It is under the active management of James T. Vincent, a son. Scarcely a day passes that Vincent does not visit the store to greet its patrons.

Three generations of Vincents are registered pharmacists. James T. Vincent has assisted his father for forty-six years.

Vincent's hobby is music. He has been a choir leader more than seventy years and when only sixteen led a church choir in Cleveland.

ELLIS ISLAND WORKER WILL SPEAK FRIDAY

Mrs. Ludmilla Foxlee To Make Address At Y. W. C. A. Auditorium

Mrs. Ludmilla Foxlee, who is to speak at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday, March 11, at 7:45 has the distinction of being the first woman with whom thousands of our incoming future Americans come into contact when they first land on American soil. On Ellis island, where she represents the Young Women's Christian Association, Mrs. Foxlee helps the bewildered immigrant girls and women to untangle the confusion and fears caused by their frequent ignorance of the present entrance requirements or legal barriers.

From long experience in dealing personally with these incoming future Americans and helping them unravel the red tape as well as doing research on entrance laws of other countries as well as the United States, Mrs. Foxlee has an enviable rank as an authority in immigration conditions.

Uniting separated families and arranging weddings between newly arrived brides-to-be from the old country, and their waiting swains here, are everyday details of the visitor's day. Interpretation of Ameircan laws, tracing lost relatives and easing the lot and aiding if possible those ordered deported, are among the many services that Mrs. Foxlee in cooperation with the Ellis island authorities, has as part of her daily office routine.

Many of the young girls and women who pass through her hands at Ellis island have come from European ports where Y. W. C. A. representatives insured their safety. The congestion caused by conflicting immigration laws and the delay of families to join husbands and fathers here due to quota restrictions, led some years ago to the establishment of a chain of Y. W. C. A. immigration workers in most of European ports through which the immigration flow to American passes.

Mrs. Foxlee is a Czech by nationality and is well known among her own people here in America. Her recitals of old world songs in costume are very popular and were it not for the pressure of her other work could take up her entire time. She has both spoken of her work and sung the songs of the people among which she works at notable houses in New York.

Dazzling Teeth

That Movies' $100,000 Stars Use and Leading Dentists Urge.

Accept 10-Day Tube to Try

SCIENCE has made important discoveries in restoring "off-color" teeth to clear whiteness, and in firming tender gums. One's whole appearance may be quickly changed.

Most tooth ugliness (as to color) now is traced to a film that forms on teeth. You can feel it with your tongue—a slippery sort of coating.

That film absorbs discolorations, breeds bacteria, invites tooth decay and gum troubles. Old-type dentifrices failed to combat it successfully.

That's why your teeth are now off color. Clear it off, and you'll be amazed at what white teeth you have.

High dental authorities urge a new-type, film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent . . . different from all others. You feel that film coat go. Beautiful color and high polish come.

All druggists sell Pepsodent in large tubes. Or send coupon for test free. Do this now.

Mother Joins Son She Supposed Dead, And Changes Homes

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Mar. 9—Mrs. Elizabeth Gladman, 74, this city, today consented to return to Chicago with her son, Oliver C. Schofield, whom she had not seen for 38 years, and whom she supposed was killed in the Spanish-American war. Scofield, while touring the East last August, learned at Glendrysburg that his mother, sister and brother were living, and labored for several months by letter and photographs to prove that he was "Eddie Fox" the name by which he was known when his grand paents reared him in Guernsey county. Schofield arrived today. He recognized his mother as he stepped from the train.

Rastus Can't Get Rid Of His Farm

ANDOVER, Kan., March 9—Rastus Bales of Andover has inherited the same farm three times. His father left him the farm and he sold it to his brother who when he died left it to Rastus. Later Rastus deeded the 160-acre farm to his four sons. The youngest son died and Rastus being the nearest heir got that quarter share back.

Lot's wife made the mistake of violating the rule against the left turn.

Babies Are Checked By New York Stores

By ARTHUR WIMER
New York Correspondent of the New Castle News.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Check the baby?

Yes, check the baby with a round brass disc on a short leather strap just as one checks suitcase or umbrella when superfluous articles are a drag on freedom in shopping. Check the baby at the door and shop in ease, is the convenience offered mothers by three of the largest department stores in the Harlem section of Manhattan.

Row after row of carriages and gocarts, tagged with identifying metals, line the sidewalks in front of these houses of commerce. Fine wicker and course rattan vie with the greater elegance of the shiny English perambulator whose spacious interior provides artistic opportunity for tufted coverlets and downy pillows. Pink bows compete good-naturedly with blue bows, and blue eyes are compared good-naturedly with brown in this daily parade of babies along one of the city's most crowded.

"On some days there are as many as 50 or 60 here at a time," chuckled the blue-coated Charlie, guardian of the outdoor nursery in front of one of the stores. "We don't look after so many at this time of year," he added with a shake of his head toward a negligible dozen or so of baby cabs parked along the curb—a number negligible perhaps to Charlie, but a formidable host, surely, to an inexperienced layman suddenly called upon to mind 12 pairs of lusty lungs, 12 pairs of mischievous hands and 12 strengthening backbones which insist upon standing upright at an age when, as every one knows, it is best for backbones to remain in a horizontal position. And the number sometimes reaches 60.

"No, they ain't no bother," continued Charlie, who for 14 years has been tending the babies while mother shopped. "If they cry I just run my hand around under the cushions and see if there is a bottle somewhere. Usually there is. If that don't quiet 'em, I bounce the buggy up and down or wheel it back and forth. The smallest kids sleep most of the time," and he turned to exhibit one of the smallest, a bit of humanity five months old.

Charlie, as well as the other guardians along 125th street, scorned the suggestion that there might be a danger of getting them mixed up.

"Even when mothers don't stop to get a check there's no danger," said the astute Charlie. "I know all the babies that come here.

"Christmas is the big time. Then I have as many as 60 on some days. No, they don't seems to get cold. They're all wrapped up and the mothers think it's good for them to sleep out of doors. This is a dull day," he concluded, reaching for a curly-headed two-year-old who was trying to climb over his carriage strap. The curly head subsided with a chuckle. He liked the game.

"Saturday is always dull. Monday is the big day of the week."

Charlie is a short little man with a whimsical twinkle in his eye and a quirk to his mouth that 14 years of baby tending have failed to iron out. The grey hair curling from under his too-small blue cap testifies that he has seen 62 winters come and go, but the vehemence with which Charlie asserts that he is still young suggests that it will be many more years before Charlie will resign the outdoor nursery to another caretaker.

France and Italy are next-door neighbors of one mind. They are against disarmament.

Shaw Makes Reply

Miss Miriam Stephenson, 19, of Wausau, Wisc., a co-ed at Lawrence College in Appleton, Wisc., is "quite an ingenius young liar" in the opinion of George Bernard Shaw, noted author and playwright. Miss Stephenson recently wrote a criticism of Shaw's philosophy of life as a thesis requirement in a course in which she is enrolled. Thinking Shaw might be interested, she mailed a copy to his London address. She received the following reply from him: "You are quite an ingenius young liar. How many marks did they give you? A career as a journalist is indicated. Good luck to you." He signed it "G. Bernard Shaw." Miss Stephenson called Shaw a "Mephistophelian personality" and in her criticism inferred that in his philosophy of life he ran always contrary to accepted standards.

Natives Swim 4 Miles Carrying Injured Man

Australian Aborigines Battle Swirling Flood To Save Two White Men

BRISBANE, Australia, March 9.—Unsual faithfulness and heroism was displayed in the Queensland floods by the Aborigines, say reports of that disaster just made public.

A boat filled and sank four miles from the shore. Her crew of two white men and several natives took to a small dinghy which sank almost immediately. One of the white men was injured and unable to swim and the other a poor swimmer but the natives taking turns to hold up the white men struck out for the shore, which was reached after several hours battling with the waves. The white men were utterly exhausted.

An Aborigine and a native woman were compelled by the flood to spend the night in the top of a tree. The woman died of exposure but when dawn came the man fought his way through the flood waters to a nearby pumping station. There he learned that a white family were marooned on the top story of a house in the neighborhood. Once more he dived into the swirling waters, reached a telegraph station and sent a rescue party to the help of the stranded family.

Woman 111 Reads Without Spectacles

CHARLEROI, Pa., March 9.—Marianna may have the oldest woman in the state in the person of Miss Mary Mallee, aged 111 years, who was born in Ireland October 11, 1815 and emigrated to Osceola, Clearfield county in 1865. At present she makes her home with Mrs. Mary Ann Roule who conducts a boarding house.

Despite her age Miss Mallee washes the dishes, does a portion of her own washing and considerable sewing, being able to thread her own needle. She never has worn glasses and ascribes her age to the fact that she has lived a plain conventional life.

Pension Grants In This District

Increases Are Given In Number Of Instances By Act Of Congress

By GEORGE H. MANNING.
(Washington Correspondent of The News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 9.—Omnibus pension bills which passed the senate in the closing hours of the 69th congress proving pensions and increases in pensions for veterans of various wars, their widows and dependents will benefit five persons in New Castle and vicinity.

Mrs. Sarah J. Somers, 406 Centennial street, New Castle, was granted an increase of pension from $30 to $50 a month. Mrs. Somers, aged 74 years is the widow of the late James L. Somers, alias Saxton, who served as a private in Company E, Twentieth Regiment Pennsylvania Provisional Cavalry from January 8, 1864 to July 13, 1865. The Civil War veteran died October 26, 1910. Mrs. Somers maried the veteran soldier on July 4, 1899.

A pension of $30 a month was granted to Mrs. Mary E. Rhodes, aged 68, of 451 East Washington street, Rochester, Pa. She is the widow of Henry L. H. Rhodes who was a private in Company B. 134th Regiment, Pennsylvania Infantry during the Civil war and who died February 10, 1924. Mrs. Rhodes married the veteran September 29, 1909.

Increases of pension from $30 to $50 a month were granted also to Margaret Hogan, aged 87 and Elvirda L. Lightner aged 79, both of Slippery Rock, Butler county, Pa.

Mrs. Hogan is the widow of John Hogan, late a private in Company E, 91st New York Infantry, who died October 27, 1898. Mrs. Lightner is the widow of Hezikiah Lightner, who was a private in Company F, 57th Pennsylvania Infantry during the Civil war and who died in 1906.

Victor Clark of Beaver Falls was granted a pension of $20 a month. He is the helpless and dependent son of Robert A. Clark of the 34th Pennsylvania Infantry.

It is a good guess that the devil knows more about human nature than human nature knows about itself.

Former Local Boy To Be Instructor At Tacoma

Mrs. Christina Calangelo of 212 West Wabash avenue has received word to the effect that her son, Joe Cascone, who has been located in Tacoma, Wash., for five years, has been selected by the playground department of the Metropolitan Park district to give lessons to the school children on the harmonica, better known as the mouth organ.

The instructor has won distinction as the Pacific coast champion on the little reed instrument and is perfectly able to give instruction to the boys and girls.

The young musicians will all be under 16 years of age and will be organized in bands through the assistance of the schools. About 40 or 50 players will constitute each band.

There will be a number of bands representing various sections of the community. When the bands are sufficiently proficient it is planned to bring them together in competition with each other. There will be contests for soloists as well as whole bands, and valuable prizes of gold and siver harmonicas of both the marine band and autovalve types will be given to the winning soloists.

A solo contest will be given about May 1 and a band competition about June 1.

Mrs. Calangelo is very much pleased that her son has had the honor of being made instructor of probably the first band of this character in the United States.

Speed At Altar Leads To Arrest

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., March 9—Charles B. Woodland, 50, Barnesville engineer, who secured a divorce and remarried again in ten minutes, was arrested on a charge of perjury, placed against him by Prosecutor P. V. Waddell.

Woodland testified on the stand that he had always conducted himself as a married man should. Ten minutes after he was granted a decree he had married Miss Lydia Ensley, 44.

Prosecutor Waddell holds that no man could meet, court and wed a girl in ten minutes and that, therefore, Woodland perjured himself in securing a divorce.

The second Mrs. Woodland urged her husband to fight the case. Woodland told the officers that "It don't take me a lifetime to pick myself a wife."

A Straight Route?

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," said Heloise of the rapid fire restaurant.

"Gee!" ejaculated Blondie of the same establishment. "Don't you hafto detour any?"

"One of the club members says you spoke to him without being summoned."

"Yes, sir," said the waiter. "His coattails were on fire."

"As for myself, I think you were justified. However, if he makes a point of it, you will have to go."

American Prosperity In 1926 Reflected In First Returns Of Income Taxes

Estimate Surplus Of $500,000,000 At End Of Present Fiscal Year

Wholesale Tax Reductions Expected To Follow In Wake Of Splendid Record

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The high-tide of American prosperity, reached last year, was reflected today as the advance guard of dollars began flowing into the treasury on income tax returns for 1926.

With initial payments due by March 15, treasury experts predicted the income tax revenues would total at least $600,000,000 for the first quarter of the year. This will mark an increase of $100,000,000 over the revenues in March 15 last year when $499,600,000 was paid into the treasury.

Government officials viewed the prospects of this golden flood with great satisfaction. They anticipated it would provide a surplus of $500,000,000 in the treasury by the end of the present fiscal year, June 30. With a surplus of this bulk in the treasury, it was pointed out, wholesale tax reductions will be in order when congress convenes next December.

Widespread Prosperity.

The principal reason for the sharp increase in revenues, officials said, was the widespread industrial and commercial prosperity throughout the country last year. The scattered spots of agricultural depression, it was added, have little effect upon tax revenues because the agriculturalists pay but a small portion of the national tax burden in any year. In 1926, it was said, the agriculture depression was confined to a few states, while industrial and commercial prosperity was nation-wide.

A second reason for the increased revenue, it was said, will come from the increase in the corporation tax and the vast increase in corporation business throughout the country. The tax itself was raised by the last congress from 12½ per cent to 13½ per cent, and treasury officials estimated this advance would bring in $50,000,000 alone in increased revenues.

Past Year Prosperous One.

"The payments on income taxes, which are due within a week, will be upon last year's business," said one treasury expert.

"The year 1926 was one of the most prosperous in all the history of our country and this prosperity will be reflected in tax revenues."

Administration leaders in congress meanwhile were keeping in touch with the treasury in order to draft plans for the enactment of a tax reduction bill at the next session. Both Republican and Democratic leaders have gone on record as favoring the repeal of all the so-called "nuisance taxes" now levied on automobiles, theatres and tobacco, while the administration undoubtedly will seek a sharp reduction in corporation taxes. A corresponding slash in personal income taxes probably will come with any revision of the present law, although the tax on smaller incomes is practically negligible under the present law.

OSAKA, "VENICE OF EAST," SHAKEN BY QUAKE

View in ancient section of Osaka, one of the Japanese cities suffering from earthquake shocks. Osaka compares with Philadelphia in size, having 2,132,600 population at the last census. Termed the "Venice of the East" because of its 1,200 stone and bamboo bridges over picturesque canals, it is a great commercial and manufacturing center. It spreads out along the two banks of the river Yedo and ranks second to Tokyo in the Japanese empire. Kobe, another city shaken, contains 608,644 persons.

Income Tax Returns Are Being Made

Local Internal Revenue Bureau Men Are Being Kept Busy

Three men are being kept fairly busy at the local internal revenue office, receiving and filing income tax returns of people in this district.

The three men in the office are M. S. Woods, George Kuech and W. H. Patterson and they are ready and willing to assist all persons desiring to file their returns. The office is located in room 203 of the Union Trust company building over the First National Bank of Lawrence County and entrance to the same is on North Mercer street.

According to Mr. Woods, there appears to be a disposition on the part of the persons of whom an income tax return is required, to delay the matter. It will cost them money to do this, if delayed too long. It would be an accommodation to those in the office if those required to make the returns did not delay too long and try to all crowd in on the last day, which is March 15.

All the returns must be in the local office or in the hands of the collector of the district by midnight March 15. And this doesn't mean in the mails, it means actually in possession of those having authority to receive the same.

If returns are not in at that time the person failing to make the return will be required to pay a 25 per cent penalty. There will be no extension of time this year.

The local office will be open for the accommodation of the income tax paying public on Saturday afternoon and evening up until 9 p. m.

Vehicle Measure Out Of Committee

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 9. — A bill increasing the license fees for certain classes of commercial vehicles, introduced in the senate today by Senator Schantz, Lehigh, immediately was reported from committee on public roads and highways to which it had been assigned.

The bill amends the present act governing such fees. All commercial vehicles are divided into nine instead of eight classifications. Changing of the weight for classes, as provided by the bill, would result in increased rates.

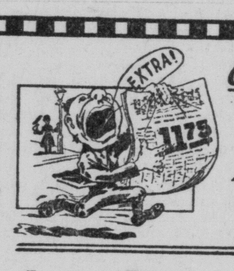

Frank J. Navin acting president of the American league broke into baseball as a cashier and bookkeeper for S. F. Angus one of the early owners of the Detroit club.

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overstoutness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat.

If you are overstout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire.

Kindergarten Petition Is Received Favorably

Mothers Ask Ellwood City School Board To Start Work

Board Will Likely Provide For Establishing Of This School

ELLWOOD CITY, March 9—Mrs. A. F. G. Paetzel, president of the Parent-Teachers association; Mrs. Robert Barlow, chairman of the petition commtttee, Mrs. Carl Hayes and Mrs. J. Reed Carpenter, members of the petition committee were present at the meeting of the Board of Education at the Lincoln school last evening to personally present the petition signed by 211 mothers for the establishment of a public kindergarten.

The board voted favorably on accepting the petition and turned over the action on same to the members of the finance committee which is headed by J. W. Offutt. However, the members in discussing the project informally with the members of the Parent-Teachers association seemed to feel kindly disposed toward it, and to see that such a move would be beneficial to the young of Ellwood City.

In event of the finance committee approving the project, the board will probably raise the age limit from 4 years to 5. As there will be probably 144 children in the kindergarten proposed to be established in the Hartman school and 67 in the North Side school making a total of 211 kiddies, and probably too many to handle all at one time. It was suggested that two sessions be conducted, in the morning and afternoon, and if necessary, appoint an assistant to the teacher.

Mrs. Paetzel stated that the expenses of the private kindergarten amounted to $1,000 for teachers' salary; $75 so far for supplies and furniture, $115. The furniture is being donated to the board in event they decide to adopt this project. The main item for the decision of the finance committee is whether the benefits to be derived from the kindergarten will be equivalent to the cost of maintenance. However, the committee is ordered to have a report ready for the April meeting of the board of education.

In a verbal report to the board Superentendent Ray Smith stated that the schools were planning a May Day program the first of May, to take place on the Athletic field in which 2600 school children would take part. By this time it is expected that the bands from the various schools will be well enough advanced in orchestration to play the music for the drills.

Prof. Smith asked the board's co-operation in an effort to prevent a recurrence of last year's clash between classes regarding the flag at the top of the pole in front of the Central school building. "If they must fight," said Prof. Smith, "let them go to the Athletic field where they can do no damage."

Mr. Dennison of the Patrick-Damson company, had an interview with the board in the interest of paying the final installment of $8,000 on the Lincoln school building. The members agreed to get the matter settled at the earliest opportunity.

Literary Lights To Receive Some Recognition Soon

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., March 9—Superintendent Ray Smith suggested at the meeting of the board of education that some recognition be made to the literary contests in various debates, declamations, etc., with other schools.

Special Stairway In New School

ELLWOOD CITY, March 9.—It became known at the school board meeting last night that the third floor stairs in the new Lincoln school has treads in the cement made of solid copper and costing $300.

Really, in view of this important fact, the school children should tread extremely lightly over these stairs, which, by the way, were finished without any special order, but as they are completed the members feel that the workman should be paid. What the argument was over was the submitting of the bill for these stairs, $955. Mr. Dennison of the Gilpatrick-Dawson Company was present and asked to explain how any stairway could amount to this sum. Then came the news that these specially made copper treads were very expensive, and also that the finish on the stairway was all by hand. These facts are well to know, as we appreciate hand work and labor too little these days.

Trade at Haney's, the Friendly Store

YESTERDAY AND TODAY

There is much furniture in many homes today that was bought at a time when utility was the first and last consideration.

Today people have an entirely different idea. Aside from utility, they want their furniture to beautify their home. Today home furnishing is an art.

This idea is spreading so rapidly that manufacturers of attractive, moderate-in-price furniture are expanding and increasing their output tremendously.

That is why our Exchange Department is so busy, and so popular. Piece by piece New Castle families are trading in this old-time furniture, and replacing it with modern designs—REAL furniture as we know furniture today.

P. S. When you trade in your used furniture, there is no difference in the price, no difference in the credit terms, no difference in the service.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY Florence Smith Vincent

TRYING TO MAKE GOOD

Strange thing, but as a day begins, so usually it ends. You know how it is—when you hop out on the wrong side of the bed in the morning things generally go dead wrong until it comes time to hop back into bed again.

Petares and the lean Dog had begun the day with an adventure! And the day was doomed to be full of surprises for them—and not very pleasant surprises, either!

The little Goat had been saucy and too sure of itself and had scorned their words and company, but for all of that Petares and the lean Dog were very, very sorry that he had to pay with his young life for his folly? Had he listened to them he might still have been gamboling on the green banks of the Nile.

How peaceful the river was—so peaceful that somehow the sad thing that had just happened seemed rather like a bad dream from which the two comrades had awakened.

"Well, Master of Mine, are you ready to start back on the long trail home?" barked the lean Dog. Petares, squinting up at the sun, shook his head.

"No, no, not just yet!" declared he. "The sun is at its height and the road is very, very dry and dusty. The cool of the early twilight is the time to travel. There is no need for us now to leave this lovely spot. 'Tis restful here and safe, for surely all danger has gone with the passing of the cruel old Crocodile down the river. What say you, my good hound? Shall we not linger longer?"

The lean Dog wagged his tail.

"So well it suits me here to stay, dear Master, that I could run to yonder palm tree and back, and perhaps shake you down a cocoanut, if you desire it!" Petares chuckled.

"A BARK AND A BOUND AND OFF WENT THE DOG AND DID HIS BEST TO MAKE GOOD HIS BOAST, JUMPING AT THE PALM TREE AND SCRATCHING AT ITS TRUNK.

"Then do so, Hound, and quickly, and remember in the running never to make rash promises unless you are willing to perform them. Thirtsy? Truly my mouth feels parched, like a cornstalk upon which no rain has fallen, and the milk from the cocoanut will make for me sweet drinking."

A bark and a bound and off went the Dog and did his best to make good his boast, jumping at the palm tree and scratching at its trunk.

Next: "Coming Down, Below!"

DINNER STORIES

Another Golf Yarn.

Two golfers playing an important match were annoyed by a slow couple in front of them.

At one hole there was a particularly long wait. One of the offending couples dawdled on the fairway, while his companion searched industriously in the rough.

At length the waiting couple on the tee could contain their impatience no longer.

"Why don't you help your friend find his ball?" one shouted, indignantly.

"Oh, he's got his ball," the man replied blandly. "He's looking for his club."

A Brigat Lad.

Ah! Can that litle boy repeat any portion of the Declaration of Independence?" asked a tourist in Pinehill Ridge region.

"No I reckon not," replied the youngster's sire, Gap Johnson, "but his uncle, that lives over in Oklahomy, learnt him, the last time he was here, to cuss in three different Injun languages."

NEW CASTLE TO PLAY DUQUESNE HIGH IN TOURNEY

Meet Friday Night At Pitt Stadium

New Castle High To Play "Dukes" Again This Year; Locals Have Tough Battle

Duquesne Drops Vandergrift High For Right To Meet Red And Black

By "BUGS" WALTHER

By some strange shuffling of the cards New Castle High will renew activities with Duquesne High in the annual W. P. I. A. L. tourney for the scholastic championship. In 1925-26 the New Castle team captured the Section III title and was straightway stopped by the "Dukes" in the first game at the Pitt Stadium gym. One year has passed, and it appears that fate has destined that the teams meet again.

Duquesne High, in the first round of the tourney, defeated Vandergrift last night by a score of 23 to 11 and it is so ordained that New Castle High engage the Duquesne team on Friday night.

The locals are eager to avenge that setback suffered in such a graceful manner last year at the hands of the Eldermen. The wish was expressed after the game last year that New Castle would appreciate another chance at Duquesne High. The chance has been carefully wrapped in oilskin and was presented the Red and Black team today.

Consternation fills the camp of the locals. Well do they realize that in Duquesne High they are taking on an opponent that is given championship ranking. The "Dukes" are conceded by prominent sport writers to have about the sweetest team in the Pittsburgh district and they do not hesitate a minute in saying that Duquesne High stands a mighty fine chance of copping the W. P. I. A. L. title this season.

Locals Well Balanced

So much for that. The Pittsburgh sport critics have not taken a peek at the locals this year. New Castle High winners of Section IV has one of the best balanced teams in the history of the school. The Red and Black team won something like fourteen games this year and was defeated in three games. Duquesne High will find a vastly different team this year than the quintet they downed 27 to 20 last season. The writer is of the belief that the New Castle team of this season is superior to the combination that walked off with sectional honors last year, having followed both teams through a season.

The critics say that if New Castle can hurdle the high wall that surrounds the Duquesne team they will advance to the finals in the tourney. The opinion prevails in Pittsburgh and surrounding territory that the championship lies between Duquesne and New Castle, with Braddock High as a possible winner also.

Things should be rather lively in Pittsburgh on Friday night. The locals are tuned up to the highest pitch for the battle. Practice sessions are in vogue for today and tomorrow. The "Dukes" will find New Castle High ready and waiting for the clash Friday night.

The locals will make the trip to Pittsburgh early Friday afternoon. The elimination game will start at 8 o'clock sharp.

Tunney Gains Popularity Through Vaudeville Tour

Estimate Champion $150,000 Richer Through Tour Of American Stage

Outside Ring Newly Crowned Champion Fits Well In Almost All Occasions

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, March 9.—According to advices arriving today, several weeks in advance of the young man himself, Gene Tunney has added copiously to his personal popularity during his tour of the American box offices, now drawing to a profitable close. Everyone knows that he has added about $150,000 to his personal fortune, which is a good trick, even if you don't do it, but popularity usually is acquired by painful degrees, like a bunion.

It is, in fact, the world's greatest open field runner and for a time it was feared that Tunney was to miss the tackle with beautiful precision.

The trouble was that he declined to play the role of champion in character. He experienced almost no difficulty at all in restraining the impulse to drink the contents of a finger bowl, and never once did he try to cut his peas with a knife. The old-timers, viewing these phenomena from afar, were first nonplussed and then resentful. They neglected to remember, of course, that the pugilistic tendency these many years has been toward the dinner coat and away from the turtle neck sweater. They also forgot that they had resented something in almost every heavyweight champion since the days of John L. Sullivan.

They didn't like the gentleman Jim idea about Corbett, particularly since he had beaten the man they revered. Jeffries' taciturnity repelled and annoyed them. Johnson's behavior, perforce, affronted everybody, and Willard's lack of personality and ability, coupled with his size, made him a shining target.

With Dempsey it was the army issue, the Wills issue, the money he made and the so-called easy way he made it. Almost without exception, however, these men improve on more intimate acquaintance. It seems to have been so with Tunney, who has afforded the public a much closer personal view than did his predecessors, what with his inherent lack of immunity to the promotorial tendencies of Chambers of Commerce and what not.

Tunney Is Real Fellow

And, considering his unfailing courtesy, which seems to be innate; his pose and excellent address, it is not surprising that Tunney has tackled the great open field runner reasonably near the line of scrimmage. Say what you will, a man meeting Tunney at the banquet board, on the courthouse steps or side by side upon the speakers' platform at the annual flag-raising, cannot fail to be impressed by the champion's well bred manner and his air of fully agreeing with Longfellow that life is real and life is earnest.

That sort of thing would sit well with a high school principal, a rising young barrister or the cashier at the First National. It fits rather inadequately the common illusion of what a heavyweight champion should be, but common illusions don't go in Tunney's case. He became a boxer merely through the circumstances of wartime boxing. Naturally he cannot be expected to act a part that he doesn't come by honestly.

But then, a man's minor characteristics become a major sin as soon as he wins the heavyweight title. Dempsey is highly popular now, which only goes to prove that, contrary to the usual thing, the possessor of a title is a good fellow only when he hasn't got it.

Throughout the first three quarters of the fracas the play was about even with neither side having a marked advantage. Incidentally the first half ended with the score standing at 9 to 8 with the Juniors leading.

Things began to move with more speed in the second half with numerous baskets being caged on each side. ## Mostil Hard-Hitting White Sox Outfielder In Suicide Attempt

Johnny Mostil Reports To White Sox Camp Monday After Long Illness

Baseball Player Found In Pool Of Blood; Stabbed Self Many Times

BY HAROLD JOHNSON
International News Service Special Correspondent

SHREVEPORT, La., March 9.—Johnny Mostil, one of baseball's greatest fly ball hawks, today lies at the point of death, following what is believed to have been an attempt at suicide in the White Sox camp at the Youree hotel here.

There were five knife wounds in his left breast in the heart region, a razor slice in his neck, razor cuts in both legs, and his left arm nearly severed when he was found in the apartment of Pat Prunty late yesterday.

There seems to be no argument but that Johnny tried to destroy himself. He arrived Monday morning from Chicago in company with Bill Barrett and his perpetual rooter, Prunty.

Johnny was disinclined to exert himself in the initial workout and confined his training to a few jogs about the outfield. Yesterday it rained and there was no practice session. At 3:45 p. m. Johnny chatted gaily with the writer in the hotel lobby. He then retired to the room reserved for Prunty who had gone to play cards with friends in a nearby apartment. Prunty later said:

"When I left Room 382 Johnny was lying asleep in my bed. I left the key in my door on the outside as I departed and was gone possibly two hours. About 5:30 I returned. I experienced difficulty in gaining admission to my apartment. The key had been removed from the outer side of the door which had been locked inside.

"I was compelled to summon a bell boy with a master key. Finally we opened the door. I entered my room and changed a shirt, and then started for the bath room. I had trouble in opening the door however. Something jammed. A moment later, I discovered pools of blood on the tile floor of the bath room.

In Pool Of Blood.

"Thrusting open the door I was horrified to find Mostil lying on the floor, blood gushing from a number of wounds. I ran screaming into the hall and finally attracted the attention of Manager Ray Schalk, Bill Barrett and Willie Kamm."

A pearl handled knife which was found on the plate glass rest in the bath room was bloodstained to the hilt. This instrument had been driven five times in the heart region. A safety razor blade had been used for the purpose of slicing his neck on the right side, under the ear, also both his left and right legs, while his left hand had almost been severed.

Little time was lost in removing Johnny, who then seemed half dead, to the Schumpert Sanitarium where he was attended by the best surgical experts and four nurses.

Practically all hope for his recovery has been abandoned, although physicians say he has a fighting chance to live. Mostil's desire along this line may have much to do with the verdict, it was said. Early today he experienced lucid intervals during which he recognized those around him. Once to Manager Ray Schalk he said "Oh, Ray, this is terrible."

For twenty-six days prior to his arrival in Shreveport Mostil had been an inmate of Mercy hospital Chicago, undergoing treatment for an infected jaw. When he reported he was feeling none too strong and his early preliminary work here was of a mild character. Johnny, however, appeared in good spirits when he retired to Prunty's apartment for a sleep.

Baptists To Meet For Re-Organization Of Baseball Team

An important meeting of the members of the First Baptist church baseball team will be held on Thursday evening at the home of Glenn Fox, 407 Spruce street.

Election of officers will be held and plans made for the coming baseball season. Anyone desiring to join the Baptists this year are asked to attend the meeting. All members of last year's team are urged to be present. The Baptists hope to have a strong team this year.

WHY MEN PREFER POPULAR CIGARS

Is it the uniform quality? Is it the aroma? Is it the blend? Experts themselves often disagree on what one feature makes a cigar popular.

What is the main reason for the growing demand for San Felice at 5c? Is it the special combination of tobaccos used; is it the fragrance; or the smoothness? In our own factory there is a difference of opinion? What is your idea, Mr. Smoker? Try a San Felice today and tell us which of the cigar's qualities you consider responsible for its tremendous growth. Perhaps it is that mild zesty cigar you are looking for. It costs only 5c to find out.

HALL of FAME

Nominating JOHN J. McGRAW

Because he has piloted the New York Giants through 25 seasons and is now celebrating his silver jubilee anniversary of his association with that team. Because in the last quarter of a century he has grown into a tradition of the diamond.

Because, under his management the Giants have won 10 National league pennants and three world's series championships.

Because he developed baseball's outstanding playing hero, the immortal Christy Mathewson, the greatest pitcher of his day, and perhaps the greatest baseball has ever known.

Because he is known by fans and players alike as the "Little Napoleon," for his inexhaustible fund of baseball wisdom.

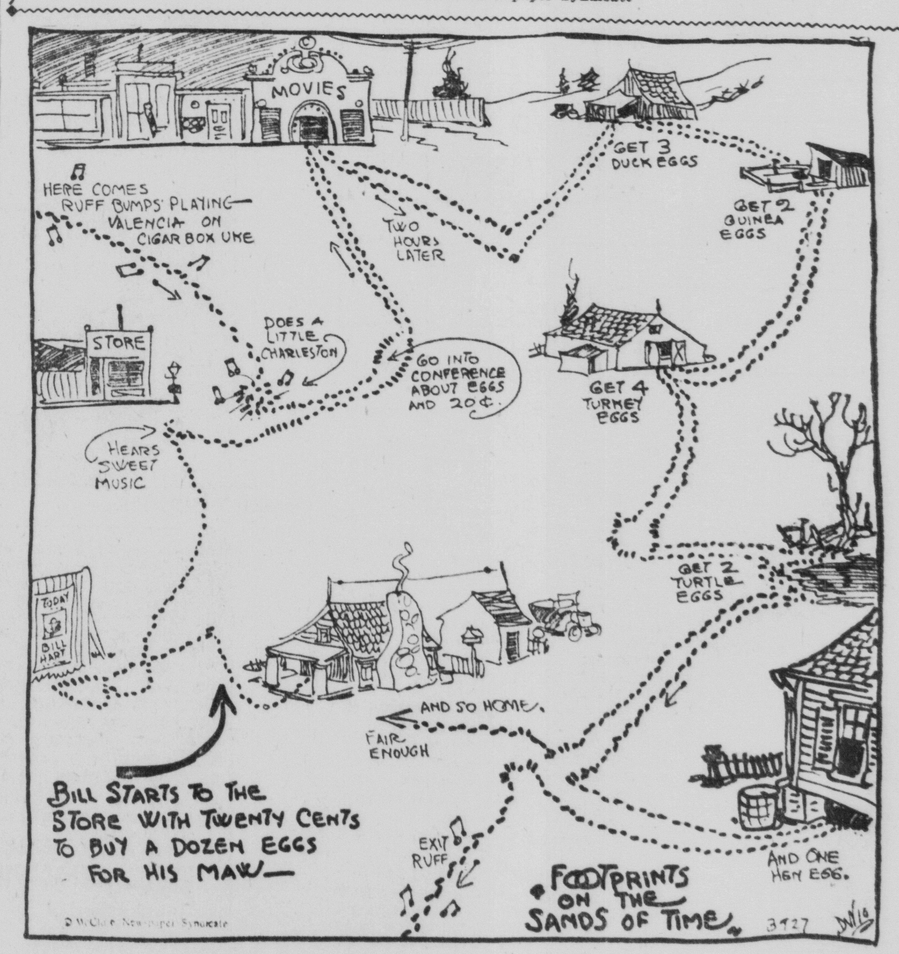

And because his remarkable record has been one of the biggest individual factors in the development of baseball that the game has ever known.

Westminster And Waynesburg Tie

Westminster Defeats Thiel In Last Game Of Season Tuesday

Lewis And Gamble Play Stellar Game For Westminster Team

GREENVILLE, Mar. 9.—Coach Lawther's Blue and White team from New Wilmington played their way to a tie for second place with Waynes[illegible] in the Tri-State conference by [illegible]ding a 31-17 defeat to Thiel la[illegible] night.

It was the final game of the season for Westminster and Thiel and from the start to the finish of the game last night Westminster held the upper hand.

Gamble and Lewis led the Blue and White attack, and when the first half ended Lawther's outfit was leading by a six point margin, or 16 to 10.

In the second half Thiel crumpled like a wind-struck umbrella and like the dark curtain pursued by a March dawn Westminster increased its lead with 15 points while Thiel earned seven.

The lineup:

|---|---|---|
| O'Donovan | F | R. Bost |
| Delehanty | F | Mitchell |

Training Camps

(International News Service)

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 9.—With only three players missing—a pitcher, an outfielder and an infielder—the Phillies' ball squad is rapidly rounding into shape. Attempts were to be made today to secure the signed contract of John Scott, the veteran pitcher obtained from the Giants. Leach, the absent outfielder, has been sick, while Wrightstone, the missing infielder, is expected the latter part of this week. The squad plays its first exhibition game Thursday.

FORT MYERS, Fla.—The Mackmen play their second exhibition game with the Giants on the home grounds this afternoon. The A's lost the first game yesterday 7 to 6. Ty Cobb did not participate in the game yesterday. However, the other two high priced veterans, Collins and Wheat, took part.

PASO ROBLES, Cal.—Regular faced yannigan in the first practice game of the season at the Pirates' camp here today, with the outlook bright for the youngsters. Lee Meadows, veteran pitcher, and Dick Bartell, rookie shortstop, are on the injured list. The former was struck on the leg by a batted ball and Bartell suffered a deep cut over the eye when speared by a hot line drive.

TAMPA, Fla.—Well satisfied with the 8 to 4 trouncing administered to Boston's Braves, the Senators returned to Tampa today for practice before taking on the Giants and Phillies here later in the week. Tris Speaker got away to a good 1927 start by batting .500 in the Braves' game.

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla.—The Browns went about their work back at the camp here today with more zest now that they have the confidence that comes with victory. They trimmed Buffalo neatly at Palmetto yesterday, 8 to 1.

AVON PARK, Fla.—The Cardinals were ready for the Boston Braves today in the first of a two-game series. Florida University fell before the World's Champions yesterday, 6 to 4. The bats of Frisch, Bottomley and Bell did the work.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Smarting under their defeat at the hands of the Cincinnati Reds Tuesday, the Cleveland Indians will try to get even today in the remaining exhibition game with the Hendricks crowd.

Miller, Bolton and Levsen are slated to divide the hurling honors for the Clevelanders in today's game.

SARASOTA, Fla.—Having defeated the Athletics 7 to 6 in a slam bang contest here, the New York Giants today journeyed to Fort Myers for a return game with the Mackmen. For the second time in as many day Bevo Lebourveau smacked a homer in his first appearance at bat, and Lindstrom and Terry also hit for the circuit.

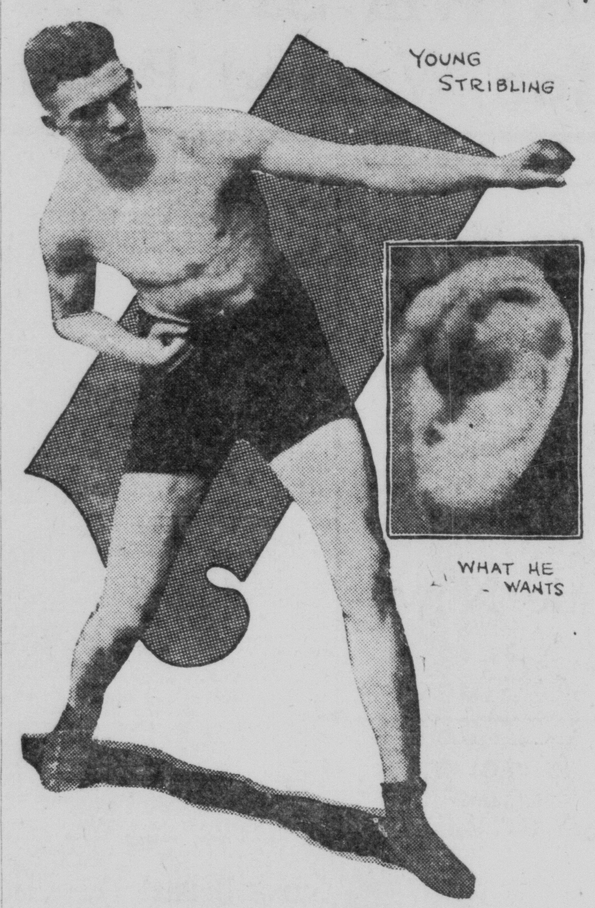

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Elias Funk, speedy outfielder from Oklahoma City, is making a strong bid for a job with the Yankees. His hitting enabled the second team to defeat the regular 7 to 2 yesterday. Pitcher Urban Shocker is still a holdout.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Manager Wilbert Robinson today continued experimenting with the Brooklyn outfield candidates. Meusel, Hendrick, Nietzke, Statz, Carey, Felix and Jacobson are waging a free-for-all battle for the positions.

SHREVEPORT, La.—Training activities at the White Sox camp were practically suspended today as a result of the tragic plight of Johnny Mostil, star centerfielder. Mostil slashed his throat and arms with a razor yesterday in an attempt at suicide. His chances for recovery are very slight, physicians announced. The affair has cast a heavy pall of gloom over the erstwhile happy camp. Manager Ray Schalk and Bill Barrett, Johnny's roommate, are in constant attendance at the bedside.

AVALON, Catalina Island, Cal.—There was much rejoicing here today over the result of yesterday's ball game in which the "Goofs" beats the Cub regulars 3 to 2. Hostilities will be renewed today, weather permitting. Root, Bush and Brillheart pitched for the regulars and Roy and G. Wilson worked for the "Goofs". Earl English, playing for the "Goofs", made two errors.

STRIBLING WANTS TIN EAR AND BOY, HE'S GONNA GET IT

Walt Miller, new manager of Young Stribling, Atlanta heavyweight, has decided that the "safety first" campaign waged to date by Stribling has kept him from becoming a great fighter—that Stribling must learn to "take it." "What Stribling needs most is a cauliflower ear," is the way one of Strib's followers expresses it. And Miller hopes to get it, figuratively, for his fighter.

WOULD REDUCE CORPORATION TAX

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 9.—Representative Moore, Washington county, sponsored a bill in the house today which would reduce from 5 to 4 mills the tax on corporations.

The bill carries amendments to existing laws, among them being one which would provide for payment of the four-mill tax by manufacturers.

Such a bill appears biennially in the legislature, but seldom gets beyond a house committee.

Eyes On The Ball! — By Feg Murray

How often in sports do you hear the admonition, "Keep your eye on the ball!" In every game played with a sphere that rule is placed first in importance by those who have reached the top, yet it is held especially necessary in the ancient pastime of golf. What are you going to say then, when Gene Sarazen up and shoots nine holes in less than fifty strokes with a bandage over his optics?

Blind golf is no new stunt to our English cousins, and putting matches between blindfolded persons have frequently been played in the country that produced John Ball, eight times winner of the British amateur title and certainly a golfer worth keeping the eye on! Major Towse, V. C., whose eyes were shot out in the Boer war, plays golf in spite of the terrific handicap of blindness. He touches the ball with his hands before he plays it each time, and his caddy rings a bell to indicate the position of the hole. Mr. Alfred Toogood, of Sunningdale, and Mr. F. Millar, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, have played matches blindfolded in England, also.

Keeping the eye on the ball is more important, in my opinion, in games like baseball and tennis, where the ball is in motion when you hit it (or miss it). The target that you are trying to knock for a loop is bigger than a golf ball, but it is coming at you with a tricky curve or dazzling speed, and in tennis you are usually forced to hit it when you are running at top speed.

Although Tilden advises all, beginners and tournament players alike, to keep the eye on the ball all the time it is in play, I have seen photos of Long William serving that plainly show him not looking at the ball as it hits the racket strings. Maybe Bob Meusel would not have made that costly muff in the last world series if he had kept his eyes more closely on the ball, and not have them wander towards the spot to which he was about to throw.

In a high school basketball game played at Lockport, Ill., several years ago, a player lost his glass eye during the heat of the battle, and the game was stopped long enough for him to pick it up off the floor and replace it. Then, when the game began, he calmly shot the ball into the basket!

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Plenty of New Material But—

IN BASEBALL LAND, March 9—I have had a long talk with one of the biggest men in baseball today—a man who was a manager last season and is happy in the thought that he no longer carries the burden of one. There is no malice in his heart from that score, then.

And this is the charge he makes.

"Major League club owners are hurting baseball—there own business—today, because they are too stingy to go into the market and buy outright the real promising baseball material in the minor leagues. Good men of major league caliber are allowed to spend two or three years in the minor leagues after they are "ripe," because the major owners will not buy them...

"I can (and he did) cite the case of two or three young fellows who were offered to my club, men whom I could have used and who were ready to help me, who were allowed to get away— and remain in the minors because neither my boss nor other club owners would pay the minor league outfit a fair price for them—buy them outright."

"But how about the huge prices paid for some of the minor league stars?" I asked.

"One or two of these men are actually bought at the figure named," he replied. "But here is the case of young (————). Our club was supposed to have paid $40,000 for him. What they actually did do was to pay $2,500 down on that price, with the rest to be paid on acceptance. They knew when they bought him that he would not deliver. They bought him against my better judgment when I wanted—and needed— another player or two whom I had recommended.

"I can tell you of another instance when an injury to one of my players hit our club when we were fighting for the lead. I begged Mr. ————, by long distance phone to buy me any kind of an experienced man to take his place. His plea was that the club couldn't afford it. He must have known, though, that, were the club to remain in the pennant fight until its return home the price of an emergency player would be more than met by one day's attendance.

"The club owners don't seem to realize that while the purchase of the promising young players will not bring them the spontaneous publicity that the purchase of the much touted "made" stars will, they (the owners) are building for future pennant contending teams when they lay out the money. ...

"They are fighting only for today's gate receipts. The aren't playing fair with the fans, however. Of course I don't mean to indict every club owner and stockholder, but the charge holds true for most of them. And they can't be made to see the error."

Oil Production Shows Decrease

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—Figures released today by the American Petroleum Institute indicate a sharp slump in the production of crude oil in the United States for the week ended March 5, the output declining 22,300 barrels daily from the high record of the previous week. ## Two Philadelphia Homes Are Bombed, No Serious Damage

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Mar. 9.—Echoes of inter-continental political cabals reverberated through South Philadelphia early today when two bombs rocked homes in the vicinity of Broad and Tasker streets.

The first explosion came in front of the home of Joseph Di Sylvestro, where a home-made bomb had been placed on a window sill. Di Sylvestro is the editor and publisher of the Libera Parola and is widely known throughout South Philadelphia.

The newspaperman, his wife, Mary, and a son, Anthony, were hurled from their beds by the force of the explosion.

Anthony immediately telephoned his uncle, John N. Di Sylvestro, an attorney. He is also the supreme venerable of the order of the Sons of Italy, an American organization devoted to the spread of loyalty to America in accord with the loyalty to Mussolini practiced by certain Italian factions. While the elder Di Sylvestro was talking with his nephew a bomb exploded on his doorstep.

No one was seriously injured.

Farragut Reaches New Orleans.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ON THE MORNING OF APRIL 25, 1862, FARRAGUT'S FLEET STEAMED UP THE MISSISSIPPI AND SILENCED THE CHALMETTE BATTERIES WHICH THE CONFEDERATES HAD ERECTED JUST BELOW THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS ON THE SITE OF THE FAMOUS BATTLE OF JAN. 8, 1815, WHEN ANDREW JACKSON HURLED BACK THE BRITISH.

WHEN THE CAPTURE OF NEW ORLEANS SEEMED INEVITABLE, THE CONFEDERATE GEN. LOVELL SENT HIS TROOPS OUT OF THE CITY AND ORDERS WERE ISSUED FOR ALL VALUABLE MATERIAL TO BE DESTROYED TO PREVENT IT FALLING INTO THE HANDS OF THE FEDERALS.

AS FARRAGUT'S SHIPS STEAMED UP THE MISSISSIPPI AND CAME WITHIN SIGHT OF THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS, AN AWE-INSPIRING SIGHT MET THE GAZE OF THE FEDERAL SAILORS. FOR MILES ALONG THE RIVER FRONT VAST SUPPLIES OF COTTON AND OTHER STAPLES WERE IN FLAMES AND MANY STEAMERS HAD BEEN BURNED TO THE WATER'S EDGE.

EARLY IN THE AFTERNOON THE UNION FLEET ANCHORED IN THE RIVER IN FRONT OF THE CITY. THE LEVEES WERE BLACK WITH CROWDS OF MILLING, SHOUTING CIVILIANS, WHO HURLED THREATS AND DEFIANCE ACROSS THE WATER AT THE INVADERS.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—Tuesday's closing rally in the industrial favorites was carried energetically into the early trading today.

Shorts in Hudson Motors, General Motors, Baldwin Locomotive, etc., were hard pressed at the start, when prices were pushed rapidly forward in sharp competition in the first period. A feature was the activity and buoyancy of the amusement stocks, the popularity of which has increased with the enormous expansion of the theatrical business in the large cities. Shubert, Loew's and Fox sold up about 2 points on the average, to the highest price levels of the year.

Bearish traders again pounced on Continental Baking A sending that stock down about 8 points. White Motors was also weak in the second hour.

Oil stocks made a much better record, Mid Continent forging ahead on repetition of dividend talk. Commodity markets were steady, and bond market firm.

Call money unchanged at 4 per cent.

To Bring Former Canton Detective Into Court Today

Murder Indictment To Be Served In Mellet Slaying On Fourth Person

(International News Service)

CANTON, Ohio, March 9.—The fourth man to be indicted for the cowardly slaying of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, here last July, will be brought into court today.

Floyd Streitenberger, former Canton detective, will be served with the indictment returned against him last Thursday charging first degree murder.

As yet counsel for the accused man has not been named and it remains a matter of speculation as to who may be appointed. Two Canton attorneys have already declined to represent the former police officer.

Prosecutor Henry Harter, Jr., is said to have made several efforts to quiz Streitenberger but so far the indicted detective has refused to discuss the case.

Undoubtedly the state's case against Streitenberger will be much stronger than was the evidence presented against Pat McDermott and Ben Rudner, both convicted of complicity in the killing and now serving life sentences in the Ohio State penitentiary. The former Detective Sergeant faces a barrage of damaging evidence against him, supplied largely through the confession of Louis Mazer, who was to go on trial March 16, for his life, but, through turning state's evidence has been promised immunity.

BIGAMIST ARRESTED AS WIVES COMPARE NOTES IN PAPER AD

LANCASTER, Pa., March 9.—An advertisement in a Philadelphia newspaper reading: "James Hubler, if alive, should call at Germantown; his wife wishes to see him", has led to the arrest of the 55-year-old chef on bigamy charges brought by alleged wife No. 2, the mother of six children.

Hubler was arrested in Reading and has been committed to the Lancaster county jail here in default of $2,000 bail, for a hearing.

Hubler is alleged to have married an attendant in the Germantown hospital seven years ago. He left soon after and is said to have married the Elizabethtown widow two years ago. The advertisement led Mrs. Hubler No. 2 to correspond with Mrs. Hubler No. 1, and an exchange of photographs led to the identification of Hubler as the husband of both women.

SPIRIT WIFE PROVES COSTLY

Mrs. Nellie C. Moore, medium, and John Seybold.

The spirits of the dead were willing servants to Mrs. Nellie C. Moore, Wichita, Kas., spiritualistic medium, charges John Seybold, 71-year-old farmer of western Kansas in a damage action in which he asks $7,500, the amount he claims he gave the medium within the past year and a half. Seybold asserts that Mrs. Moore impersonated characters of the spirit world by donning, in her private cabinet in a darkened room, flowing and gorgeous robes. These costumes were treated with luminous paint and glowed ethereally when she stepped into the dark consultation room, he says. In the course of his visits Seybold married a spirit wife named Sarah, the wedding feast, attended by several persons, cost $100. Sarah proved to be a "gold-digger," Seybold declares.

IT'S A BEAR—FOR SOMEBODY

Some high official of Australia or of the cities of Melbourne or Sydney is receiving a bear as a gift from Mrs. Henry Sonnenberg, wife of a vaudeville performer, arriving at Sydney from San Francisco. Laura, the bear, brought up from babyhood by Mrs. Sonnenberg, is getting too large to be a pet and must have a home—and so why not give her to a "big" man, who can afford to take care of her? Mrs. Sonnenberg and Laura are pictured above.

Orville Wright (first posed picture in 20 years)

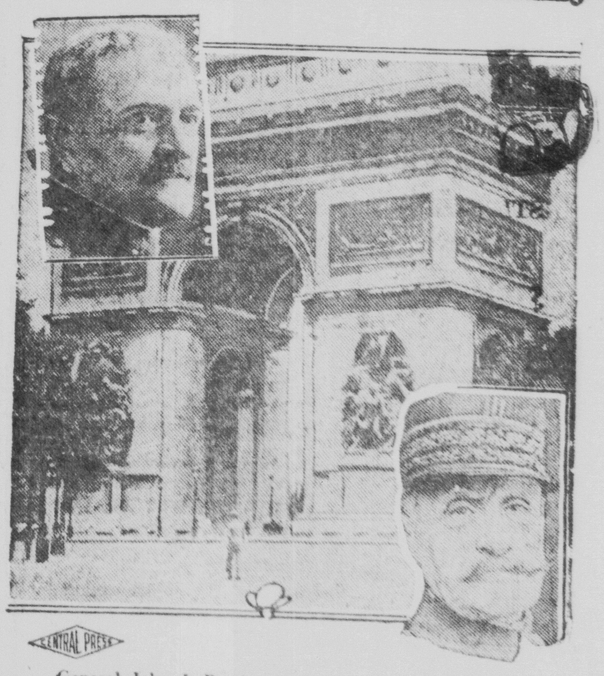

A bitter controversy over the placing of the first Wright airplane, between Orville Wright and Dr. Alexander Wolcott, late director of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, may be settled within the next few weeks, and the United States may keep the first heavier-than-air machine to fly. Wright objected to the label Dr. Wolcott placed over the Langley airplane, now in the Smithsonian Institute, and contracted to send his machine to a museum at South Kensington, England. It is reported that Wright is asking the English museum to relieve him of his contract, and it is said the request will be granted as a matter of courtesy.

Living In A Private House Popular Thing For Coolidges

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Living in an ordinary house, like other people, has popularized the Coolidges considerably already, though they've been doing it for only a few days.

The White House, when all's said and done, is an official residence, where the presidential family's kept, like specimen's in a zoo. Except when it's undergoing repairs, as at present, most of it's open to the public, at stated times of day, to be sure but then, so's a zoo.

The White House also is situated far back from the street, in the midst of extensive grounds and shrubbery and trees. A 12 or 15-foot iron fence surrounds the whole thing.

It isn't easy for a chance passer-by to see what's going on within.

Visitors are admitted to these sacred precincts, certainly, but it's a good deal like admission to an exceedingly private park.

It isn't homelike and that's a fact.

* * *

Out-of-town tourists do butt into the White House grounds and the White House itself. It's the exception when several groups of them aren't to be seen, poking around. They seem to enjoy being awed.

That's the idea. Awe!

But the average Washingtonian gets none of the benefits of it.

If you go to the White House, you go there formally, with a guide. You don't flatten your nose against one of the bars of the outer railing and peek in. You don't see anything if you do.

Either you put on your best bib and tucker and make an "occasion" of it, or you just walk by, on Pennsylvania avenue, and never give the executive mansion a glance.

Well, regular Washingtonians can hardly be expected to hire a master of ceremonies to escort 'em around their own town. The visitor from elsewhere does exactly that during his stay in the capital, and he sees the sights, but, to the average Washington resident, a close-up of the White House with the president on the front steps, starting out for a walk, is about as mythical a proposition as Windsor palace and King George.

No. 15 Dupont Circle, where the Coolidges are staying now, is altogether a different thing.

No. 15's front door opens directly on the sidewalk of a busy thoroughfare. The windows look out on the circle and on two streets. In the rear is a small garden, but, for the most part, that Patterson mansion is as obvious as any downtown store. Unless the curtains are drawn, people across the way can gaze right in.

That's just what they do.

Beginning March 2, as the Coolidges were moving into No. 15, a crowd gathered on the opposite side of the street, for an eyeful.

It wasn't a crowd of tourists. It was a typical Washington crowd—kids with market baskets on their arms, nursemaids with babies in their arms, stenographers out for lunch, clerks going to and from work, housewives doing their neighborhood shopping—that kind of folks.

That crowd has stuck there, except in the middle of the night, ever since.

Most of the time it simply keeps its orbs glued on the closed portal of No. 15, but now and then there's a high spot in the march of events.

The president has undertaken to walk, every day, the 10 blocks from No. 15 to his executive offices on Pennsylvania avenue, and back again. Once a day the crowd sees him issue forth, with his secret service escort, dodge across the circle and disappear down Connecticut avenue, at his customary four-mile an hour clip. Once a day it sees him return and vanish indoors. Once (and sometimes oftener) a day Mrs. Coolidge appears for a stroll or gets back from one. Occasionally—oh joy!—one or other of these twain appears at a window and is recognized.

Of course notabilities are frequent callers, too, and are identified getting in and out of their automobiles.

No. 15 is a swell place all right, but by no means so exclusive as the White House, and it's making a tremendous hit with the multitude.

IS THERE NO RELIEF FROM SKIN TORTURE?

Must I Continue to Suffer the Unbearable Itching?

Are you one of those unfortunates who are going through life suffering with a skin disease, making you uncomfortable, making you less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S. S. S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in many forms of skin disease. Thousands of letters of gratitude prove its worth.

"I feel so happy for what S. S. S. has done for me that I want others to know about it. I suffered twenty long years from eczema. At times the itching was unbearable. During that time, I used all kinds of salves without receiving any real benefit. After taking six bottles of S. S. S., I was cured of this dreadful disease. I recommend S. S. S. to anyone suffering from eczema, because I cannot praise it enough for what it has done for me." Cleophas Forte, Soldiers and Sailors Home, Quincy, Ill.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Ben Franklin Shop Students Find New Problem

Shop students in the Franklin Junior High school had a new problem before them in the automobile repair shop the other day. A car was brought in to have the valves ground and carbon cleaned and the boys discovered that one of the cylinders was badly scored.

When the boys took off the oil pan they found a bolt and took it to the instructor, M. M. Mills, asking him where it was from. The teacher recognized the bolt as out of the wrist pin, but told the students to find out where it was from. On examination the boys found the wrist pin loose, and taking out the piston found the side of the cylinder badly scored where the loose piece had been rubbing for several months.

The cylinder block will have to be removed now and taken to a shop, where the machinists will fill the groove with a metal. Thus the cylinder will be all right as long as the engine never runs dry of water. If it should thus become overheated the metal would melt out.

Dr. C. G. Jordan Addresses Aides

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 9.—Dr. Charles G. Jordan, state secretary of agriculture, made quite a hit at a get-together meeting recently when he had the opportunity of meeting individually almost 150 of the workers of his department.

In a short address at that time Secretary Jordan emphasized the desirability of wholehearted cooperation and loyalty on the part of the employes and pledged his cooperation and fullest consideration in all matters pertaining to the department work. He kept the employes roaring with laughter at the expense of his deputies, the directors of the various bureaus and others about whom he made humorous remarks.

In order that his get-acquainted program may be complete, the names and addresses of all the field men of the department are being assembled for Mr. Jordan so that he can visit these workers as he travels about the state.

Buy Grass Seed From Reliable Dealers; Warning

All buyers of garden and grass seed are warned to buy from reliable dealers. The difference in price for good seed and poor seed cannot make up for the loss and delay and extra work resulting from replanting the garden or reseeding the lawn, says Dr. E. M. Gress, state botanist of the State Agriculture Department.

Persons who buy grass and other seeds in packages of less than eight ounces must be always on guard because the state seed law does not afford protection. The greatest assurance of getting good seed in this case is to buy from dealers who are known to be reliable. Such dealers are extremely cautious and demand that the seed companies from which seed is purchased furnish official certification as to the quality of the product.

Dr. Gress presents the following points which are worth remembering when buying seeds, whether for the garden, lawn or field:

Quality should be the first consideration, price second.

Seeds of good quality increase profits.

The presence of weed seeds makes cheap seed expensive.

Don't buy seeds from mail order houses outside the state; the state seed law cannot protect you if you are cheated.

Buy from reliable dealers in Pennsylvania.

Scranton Merchant, Victim of Stomach Trouble, Nervousness, Dizziness and Headaches Recovers Lost Health

Emory J. Hinckley, well-known merchant, 128 South Grant Street, Scranton, Pennsylvania, says: "After 9 years of intense suffering I was so discouraged I did not know which way to turn. Then Tanlac brought me wonderful relief.

"During all these years I suffered from nervous indigestion that kept me in constant pain. It seemed that something was growing in the pit of my stomach. My appetite was poor. To heap coals on the fire, I suffered from dizziness and headaches. I was so weak and rundown that often I could not work.

"Nervousness caused by my troubles made it impossible for me to sleep. I would count the hours till dawn then arise more tired and wornout than when I went to bed. For 9 years I sought relief without success.

"Then I decided to give Tanlac a trial. After the first bottle I noticed a marked improvement in my health. This tonic has relieved my stomach trouble. I never have headaches. My nerves are always so calm that I can sleep at any hour of the day."
